

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

One Line of Bates Men

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

By MRS. E. B. GROSVENOR

7.—The emigrant, Clement Bate, son of James (6) and Mary (Martine) Bate, was baptized in Lydd January 22, 1595. He married Ann — and had: James, Clement, Rachel, Joseph, Benjamin and Samuel. He died in Hingham, Mass., September 17, 1671. S. G. Drake in the Founders of New England, says, "6 Apriles 1635, Theis p'ties imbarqued in ye Elizabeth Mr Wm Stagg bound for New England p'r cert from the Justices and Ministers of ye p'ish. Signed, Clement Bate 40 Ann Bate his wife 40 also five children and two servants." In New England he acquired "my house lott contayning five acres, my planting lott, tenn acres, and my nowe dwelling house," all in "Hingham towne."

8.—The boy, Joseph Bate, son of Clement and Ann Bate, was born in Lydd in 1630. In Hotten's Lists of Emigrants is "Jos. Bates aged 5." "Oh how this boy's heart leaps up when he thinks of it! Once no sailors had dared sail far out of sight of land lest they should come to the edge of the world and fall over! And now it seems as if the old world itself was longing to move westward to meet the new, so many were the gallant captains and the brave sailors who faced dangers in unknown seas." *

* The English Lad who Longed to Sail, by Jane Andrews.

In Hingham Joseph Bate married Esther Hillard, January 9, 1657-58. He died April 30, 1706. His children were: Joseph, Esther, Caleb, Hannah, Joshua, Bathsheba, Clement, Elinor and Abigail.

9.—The executor. Joshua Bates, son of Joseph and Esther (Hilliard) Bates, was born in Hingham August 14, 1671. He married Rachel Tower, January 15, 1695. His children were: Rachel, Joshua, Bathsheba, Elizabeth, Solomon Isaac, Jacob. He died September 23, 1757. "He was an executor of estates, member of the school committee and a farmer. He paid taxes on a house, 2 acres of farm, 6 acres of pasture, 2 horses, 2 oxen, 5 cows, 4 bbls. of cyder and 4 slaves of 12 years and over." So says The History of the Town of Cohasset.

10.—The constable. Jacob Bates, son of Joshua and Rachel (Tower) Bates, was born in Hingham August 20, 1710. He married Mary Lincoln Clark, a descendant of the emigrant Samuel Lincoln, November 19, 1730. His children were: Mary, Rachel, Simeon, Obediah, James, Lydia, Elijah, John, Jacob, Israel, Elizabeth. In The History of Cohasset is a list of his taxable property and a statement that he was also a farmer and, in 1745, a constable. He had a "little piece of meadow lying at Conyhassett, being about one acre." "The name Bates is amongst those who contributed to the building of the Old Ship Meeting house and every generation since is represented on its roster."

11.—The minute man, Israel Bates, son of Jacob and Mary Lincoln (Clark) Bates, was born in Hingham April 15, 1753. He married Mary Cooper, January 27, 1774, and died in Barr, N. Y., January 11, 1844. "Israel Bates appears in a copy of an order on Ephraim Newell, town treasurer of Attleboro dated July 5, 1775, for wages due said Bates and others for services on an alarm caused by the battle of Bunker Hill." This is from the Record Index to the Military Archives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, which also gives the names and dates of five other battles, in which this minute man took part. A tradition survives to this effect: "General Putnam disguised tried to pass the sentry Bates without the proper word; to test his fidelity. The General was heard to compliment the vigilance of Bates even before he himself recovered from the results of the encounter." He had these children:

1. Jacob, born in 1776, died February 22, 1859, married Lydia Barnes.

2. Roxanna, born in 1778, died in May, 1859, married William Brown.

3. Clark, married Esther Alden.

4. Polly, married William Hunt.

5. Israel, born in Dudley, Mass., June 21, 1786, married and left one child, when he died young.

6. Samuel, born in Dudley June 21, 1789, married Mehitable Bean.

7. Mehitable, born in Dudley April 4, 1791.

8. Jesse, born March 10, 1796, married Anna Miller, March 27, 1820.

12.—The frontiersman. Jacob Bates, eldest son of Israel and Mary (Cooper) Bates, was born in Attleboro, Mass., in 1776. He married Lydia Barnes in 1795 and died February 26, 1859. A record in the pension department in Washington says, "Jacob Bates was called into service at Little Falls, N. Y., September

7, 1814, and served as private in Captain Samuel Bant's company, Major Archibald McIntyre's battalion of New York militia, war of 1812; was stationed at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., where he was discharged November 8, 1814." Personally his granddaughter, Jane Bates, describes him in a letter as being "A very imposing figure, six feet tall and broad in proportion. I well remember when he came to our house. He had been a pioneer and emigrated into the Mohawk valley. There were Indians and deer in plenty—and he began telling yarns." His children, born in Oppenheim, N. Y., were:

1. Rachel, born June 11, 1796, died October 24, 1859, married Bryant White, March 10, 1816.

2. Lucinda, born February 8, 1798, died August 26, 1865, married Stephen Bowen, January 30, 1817.

3. Thomas, born March 23, 1800, died February 28, 1874, married Elizabeth Wood in 1824.

4. George, born August 27, 1802, died May 13, 1884, married Harriett Erwin, May 21, 1829.

5. Daniel, born December 9, 1806, died in October 1876, married Eliza Tincomb, May 30, 1830.

6. Polly, born September 26, 1809, died in 1846, married Edwin Moffitt.

7. Sophia, died at 5 years of age.

8. Lydia, born January 29, 1812, died in 1844, married, first, January 23, 1834, Samuel Hitchcock, second, Eri Allen, third, Bryant White.

9. James, born November 21, 1815, died April 13, 1881, married, first, Amanda Bellinger second, Sarah Bean.

13.—The pathfinder. Daniel Bates, son of Jacob and Lydia (Barnes) Bates, was born in Herkimer, N. Y., December 9, 1806, and died in October, 1876. He married Eliza Titcomb, May 20, 1830, and had: Lydia, John, Israel, Jane, Lavinia, Nellie, Otis, Mansel, Perry, Russell, Emma. "He was a teacher and writer." "He was looking over the country and came across a fine spring which flowed to Lake Ontario on one side and to the river on the other. Cut on a tree was 'N.B.—D.B.'; he read 'Take Notice —Daniel Bates' and bought that land. The Bowen hunters who had cut the initials became his neighbors. He drove the first team of oxen over the new road to Mayville and built a log cabin with a stick and stone chimney and a bear skin flap for a door."

14.—The philanthropist. Jane Bates, daughter of Daniel and Eliza (Titcomb) Bates, was born in Chautauqua, N. Y., October 3, 1838. She married Daniel Webster Johnston, April 19, 1863. Her children are: Abbie, Bird, Jane, Gansey, Koric, Edward Bates. Jane Bates' long life has been a succession of good deeds and of gracious gifts to others. Among them is the presentation of a library to the people of the township of Arlington, near Bangor, Mich., where her farmstead lies. Jane Bates' advice to the youngest of the line is to the effect that: "A kindergarten boy that's smart

Should know his lessons all by heart;
Should mind his P's and quirl his Q's

And never mix his V's and U's;
Should see the stars on evenings clear
That are so large, so bright, so near,
And watch the moon take on her horns
These lovely late October morns.
In fact should use his big brown eyes
To view the earth, the trees, the skies.
So when he's seventy or more he'll have
Of learning quite a store
And be as young of heart and brain
As though he were but five again."

American Genealogies

This is a list of the genealogies of American families, published in book or pamphlet form, with date of publication. Most of these works that are of early date are now very rare. Copies of them are in most public libraries in the larger cities of the United States and in the libraries of historical societies. Copies also find their way in very small number into book auction sales and into the hands of dealers in second-hand books. Genealogies of recent date are generally procurable from the publishers. Inquiries in regard to these or any other genealogical works may be addressed to the editor of GENEALOGY.

Brooks—Crossman

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Answering 365 G. C. Gilbert Brooks, born —, died June 13, 1695, in Rehoboth, married, first, Elizabeth Winslow, daughter of Governor Edward Winslow, of the Mayflower. Elizabeth Winslow Brooks died in Rehoboth, and was buried there July 17, 1687. Gilbert Brooks married, second, January 18, 1688, in Rehoboth, Mrs. Sarah Carpenter. Hannah Brooks, daughter of Gilbert and Elizabeth (Winslow) Brooks, married, in Rehoboth, Robert Crossman, born August 3, 1657, in Dedham, Mass., and died in Taunton, Mass., in 1738. He was son of Robert Crossman, the emigrant, who married, in Dedham, May 25, 1652, Sarah Kingsbury, daughter of Joseph Kingsbury, the emigrant, of Dedham. Elizabeth Crossman, daughter of Robert and Hannah (Brooks) Crossman, was born February 20, 1684, and died February 16, 1733, in Taunton. She married, June 14, 1705, Francis Luscombe, born February 2, 1685, died March 4, 1760. He was son of Robert Luscombe, the emigrant, who was born in 1659 in England, emigrated to Boston in 1699, came to Taunton in May, 1700, and died in June, 1708. Elizabeth Luscombe, daughter of Francis and Elizabeth (Crossman) Luscombe, married George Codding. Who can give me the Codding line? By some it has been disputed that Elizabeth, daughter of Governor Edward Winslow, married Gilbert Brooks, but I give the following references: Winslow Memorial, vol. I, page 58; Vital Records of Rehoboth, for burial date of Elizabeth; New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. VI, page 206; New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. XVI, page 338; New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. XVII, page 34. The Mayflower Society also supports this.

Standish

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Who was Lydia Standish, who married John Belden, of Wethersfield, Conn., June 27, 1677? The place of marriage is not given. Stiles gave her as a daughter of Thomas Standish, of Wethersfield, but the name Lydia is not upon the Wethersfield records while the other children of Thomas are; they are all mentioned in his will, but there is no mention of Lydia. Recent articles in the Hartford Times seem to disprove that she was a daughter of Thomas. Captain Miles Standish had a granddaughter Lydia younger than this Lydia.

In the public libraries of the United States no books and periodicals are more in demand by readers than those treating of genealogy.

Holmes—Cox

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Oliver Perry Holmes was born in New Jersey and married, in Illinois, Mary J. Cox. He died in California about 1854, aged about 50. Mary J. Their children were: William Wallace Holmes, born in 1835, died in 1886, married, in 1856, Sophia Woods; Sophronia Holmes, born in 1837, married, in 1856, William D. Smith; Lucy Holmes, born in 1839, died in 1882, married, in 1859, Mark West; Albert Holmes, born in 1841, died in 1867. Can some one please give me the dates of Oliver Perry Holmes' birth and marriage; full names of his father and grandfather, Holmes, with dates and where they were born, married and died; full maiden names of his mother and grandmother, Holmes, with dates and where they were born and died; names of brothers and sisters of Oliver Perry Holmes with dates of their births, and names of whom they married; names of brothers and sisters of father of Oliver Perry Holmes with dates of their births and names of whom they married?

The Sutherland Family in America

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

BY KATHERINE SCOTT GOTTSCHALK

The name Southerland, or Sutherland, with the two ways of spelling appears among the early families in both the New England, and the southern states. No doubt they were related, but have since grown widely apart.

I

Among the settlers coming over before the Revolution was a family of Sutherlands, whose members settled in Virginia. One of that family was George Sutherland (1), born in Scotland in 1761. From old deeds, and gifts of land it seems that he had a brother Samuel (1), and their father was Saunders [Sanders, Sandy], Sutherland. George Sutherland died in 1847. By deed, dated January 2, 1783, Saunders Sutherland and Martha, his wife, Samuel, and George Sutherland's consent given, all of Fluvanna county, Virginia, convey land to James Crudsan. See deed book No. 1, p. 434, Fluvanna county, Va. The Martha mentioned would be the second wife of Saunders, and stepmother to George, and Samuel. She was the daughter of Samuel Davis of Fluvanna county, Va.

George Sutherland (1) settled first in Virginia. Shortly before the Revolution he moved to Carolina, enlisting from Caswell county, N. C., in the fall of 1775, serving as drummer boy for two years under Captain Henry Dixon, Captain Tilman Dixon, and Colonel Clarke, in the First North Carolina Regiment. On October 5, 1780, he enlisted again, giving Albermarle county, Va., as his residence, under Samuel Eddins in the artillery and served until a short time before the battle of York, when he was furloughed on account of disability. George Sutherland (1) married, first, a widow named Jane Johnson Shores, September 15, 1791, in Fluvanna county, the Reverend William Baskett officiating; he married, second, Mary Herndon, October 18, 1822, the Reverend Isaac Tuckadoo officiating. There were no children by the second marriage. The children of the first marriage were: 1. George F., 2. Elizabeth L. (Betsy), 3. Richard Lee, 4. Thomas.

Samuel Sutherland (1), brother of George Sutherland (1) married Judith Foster of Louisa county, Va., on April 3, 1783, in Fluvanna county. They lived in Louisa county and in Fluvanna.

II

George F. Sutherland (2) died young and probably unmarried. He was constable in Fluvanna county in 1814.

Elizabeth L. Sutherland, sometimes mentioned as Betsy Sutherland, married Madison Bibb, before 1835.

Richard Lee Sutherland (2) was born:

August 8, 1798, in Fluvanna county. He married, first, Sarah Ann —, some time before 1821. I believe there were no children by this marriage. In 1826 he married Mary Jane Dickinson of Nelson county, Va. She was the daughter of Thurston James Dickinson and Mary Martin. After the birth of their oldest child they moved to Missouri, settling on a farm seven miles north of Farmington, in St. Francois county. Here they lived, raising a large family, owning slaves and prospering. Richard Lee Sutherland died in 1846, and his widow died in 1870 at the age of 70 years. They had the following children: 1. Frances Ann, married George Evans, and moved to Crawford county, Mo.; she was born in 1833, died in 1867 leaving children, Richard, William, Laura, and Lizzie. 2. Martha Adeline, born in 1842, married Mr. Clay; she is living and has children. 3. Mary M., married Clay, was born January 9, 1830, died December 6, 1899; a son, Judge J. E. Clay, lives in Farmington. 4. Thurston James, died young. 5. Eliza Lewis, married Revilo Nichols, and lived in St. Louis, having one daughter, Martha, who married Mr. Hall. 6. Richard Lee, Jr., married Cordelia —, and left a daughter Ida, who married a Mr. Foster, and has two sons in St. Louis. 7. Maria Victoria, married Dr. H. D. Dickinson, a relative, and lived in West Virginia. 8. Mildred Dickinson Sutherland, born May 1, 1831, in St. Francois county, Mo., died in Rolla, Mo., May 7, 1864; she was the second wife of Judge A. Van Warmer, and left four children as follows: 1. Emma Jane, born in 1853, died in 1898, married H. W. Cox, and had two daughters, Katherine, and Lois; 2. Andrew, married Nancy Dixon of West Plains, Mo., daughter of Dr. J. C. B. Dixon and Katherine Welsh of Kentucky; and have three children, Mrs. Fred. C. Lauwin of New York city, Dixon Van Warmer of West Plains, and Mrs. Russell Cochrane of Springfield, Mo.; 3. Joseph Lawrence, married Allie Paydon of West Plains, Mo., and has five children, Victor, Paydon, Allen, Louise and David; 4. Mary M., married — Carmical and has one son, Andrew Lawrence.

Thomas Sutherland (2), son of George Sutherland (1), was born in 1804 in Virginia and died in 1846 in Chillicothe, Ohio. He married Sarah Jones, who was of Scotch-Welsh descent, her father a Jones, her mother a Miss North. They lived in Bedford county, Va. Thomas Sutherland and his wife did not believe in slavery, and this fact caused him to remove with his family to Ohio. His children were: 1. George, 2. Martha Jane, who is Mrs. Parks of South Charleston, Ohio; 3. Thomas, 4. Elizabeth, 5. William, 6. Martin, 7. Ripley, and 8. Abraham.

III

Thomas Sutherland (3), the third child of Thomas and Sarah (Jones) Sutherland, was born February 28, 1835, in Jackson, Ohio. With his father's family he removed to Chillicothe, Ohio, but on April 7, 1854, returned to Jackson and remained there until his death, March 16, 1896. He married N. Maria Pickerel, February 24, 1857, in Jackson, and the following children were born of this union: 1. Alice S., wife of the Honorable David Davis of Cincinnati, Ohio; 2. Gertrude, wife of Dr. John F. Morgan of Ft. Collins, Colo.; 3. Mame E., wife of A. L. Erwin of Jackson, Ohio; 4. Stella, wife of Prof. Frank N. Tuillan of Ypsilanti, Mich.

Thomas Sutherland (3) was a successful business man and banker in Jackson, Ohio, being one of the founders of the Iron Bank in 1873 and its president at the date of his death. There are no sons surviving; the name Sutherland for this branch of that family has died out.

The records of Fluvanna and Albemarle counties show other Sutherlands, possibly relatives of Saunders, George, and Thomas, but not sufficient data to trace the kinship accurately has been found. Of these, there appear, among others, the following:

Mr. Feudal L. Sutherland and Miss Mathilda Thomas, married December

29, 1827 in Fluvanna county.

Philip Southerland of Louisa county is named in deeds in 1789, 1790.

Joseph Sutherland and Grizzle, his wife, in deeds.

Mersereau—Harrower

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Replying to Mersereau query, 393, J. D. M., December, 1912, evidently Joshua Mersereau (4) who died in Tioga, Penn., January 20, 1857, was the father of John, James and Theodore Mersereau, and also of Mrs. Lyman Tremaine, and of Mrs. Benjamin Harrower. James Mersereau married and had daughters, amongst whom was Frances Mersereau who married Thomas Berry, and who now is living in Elmira, N. Y. Address, Mrs. Thomas Berry, care J. W. Huston, 102 West Water Street, Elmira, N. Y.

John Mersereau married and his children and descendants are living in Olean, N. Y., and in Manistique, Mich. The inquirer might succeed in getting further information by addressing the postmaster in those places. I regret that I am not able to give the Christian names.

Mrs. Lyman Tremaine was the mother of several children, among them Theodore Tremaine who is now living in Westfield, Tioga county, Penn., and is a very aged man and might give some information. Theodore Tremaine also has a brother, Julius Tremaine, whose son, Julius Tremaine, now lives near Lawrenceville, Tioga county, Penn.

Mrs. Benjamin Harrower was the mother of several children, among whom was Gabriel T. Harrower, who was colonel of the one hundred and sixty-first New York volunteer infantry, during the civil war. Of this regiment Lewis Darling, M.D., was the surgeon with rank of major, and was the grandfather of the author of these notes. Further information might be obtained by addressing Katherine Harrower or Antoinette Harrower, Lawrenceville, Penn., as they are children of Colonel Gabriel T. Harrower and his fourth wife Helen (Parkhurst) Harrower. C. P. D.

New Hampshire Epitaphs

From the Osgoodite cemetery on Zion's Hill, Canterbury, N. H.

Josiah Haines, died May 29, 1838, Æ 60.

He was a blessing to the saints
To sinners rich and poor;
He was a kind and worthy man
He's gone to be no more.
He kept the faith unto the end
And left the world in peace
He did not for a doctor send
Nor for a hireling priest.

Hannah Haines died April 26, 1828,
 Æ 39.

Here beneath three marble stones
Sleeps the dust and rests the bones
Of one who lived a Christian life
'Twas Hannah Haines, Josiah's wife.
She was a woman full of truth
And feared God from early youth
And priests and elders did her fight
Because she brought their deeds to light.

Here lies Phebe, wife of David Ames, who was a succo-urer of many and brother Osgood also. She died Oct. 30,
1838, Æ 82.

From the old cemetery at East Derry:
"This monument secretes from sight
the remains of Mrs. Anne Cummings,
Relict of the late Doct. Alexander Cummings.
She departed this life November 16, A. D. 1770, in the eighty-sixth year of her age.

She lived beloved and died lamented
If words and actions indicates the heart

With saints above she surely has a part
As she lived so she died
Resigned to the Divine will.

Depending on God through his ever blessed son for a glorious resurrection and eternal life.

Spectator, be ye also ready.
Miss Dinah Cochran Æ 84, Died 1819.
A friend to truth, a foe to vice
She scan'd man's work with optics nice.

"A wife so true there are but few
And difficult to find
A wife more just and true to trust
There is not left behind."

The Carpenter Family in America

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

By CARLOS PARSONS DARLING.

Charles and Lucy (Darling) Carpenter were the heads of one of the first families that settled in the Cowanesque valley, Tioga county, Penn.

I.

Charles Carpenter, son of Samuel and Sarah (Hix) Carpenter, was born in New England, September 30, 1769. He married, probably in Richmond, N. H., date lacking, Lucy Darling, born August 5, 1773, probably in Richmond, daughter of Stephen and Prudence (White) Darling, of Richmond and Mendon, Mass., and granddaughter of Joseph and Mary (Fish) Darling. Lucy (Darling) Carpenter died March 9, 1848, aged 75 years. Charles Carpenter died in Deerfield, Tioga county, Penn., Nov. 18, 1840, aged 71 years and 18 days. He emigrated from Richmond, N. H., to the present site of Osceola, Tioga county, in 1801, and resided there until 1812. Later he moved to Deerfield, where he spent the remainder of his life. There he settled on a farm, which he partially cleared and improved and which was more recently occupied by his grandson, Lorentes Carpenter. He died upon that farm as did also his parents who came with him to Pennsylvania.

Charles and Lucy (Darling) Carpenter had six children. Data is lacking except in one line. They are as follows:

1. James Carpenter.
2. Abijah Carpenter, born in 1809, in Vermont or N. H.; married March 7, 1835, Sarah Healy Urann; she died April 30, 1878, in Boston, Mass.; he died in Boston, October 11, 1848.
3. Charles Carpenter.
4. Sylvia Carpenter, married N. P. Robinson.
5. Lyman Carpenter, born May 5, 1796.
6. Samuel Carpenter.

II.

Lyman Carpenter, son of Charles and Lucy (Darling) Carpenter, was born May 5, 1796, probably in Vermont or New Hampshire. He was reared to manhood in Deerfield, Penn. After his father's death he succeeded to the home-stead farm, but later in life, sold it and moved to Brookfield township, and thence to Farmington, Tioga county, where he died, February 19, 1873. He married, first, Almira Cook, daughter of Levi and Elizabeth (Caulkins) Cook, who bore him a family of twelve children, eleven of whom are given below. He married second, Mrs. Alta Elwood. His children were:

1. Elizabeth Carpenter, married Curtis Tiffany.
2. Lorentes Carpenter, born April 4, 1822.

3. Polly Carpenter, married, first, Elbridge Rathbone, and second, John Casner.
4. Levi Carpenter.
5. Celestia Carpenter, married Caleb Stadon.
6. Sylvia Carpenter, married Charles Cronrath.
7. Charles Carpenter.
8. Valores B. Carpenter.
9. Maxey B. Carpenter.
10. Samantha Carpenter, married, first, Wallace Green, and second, Norman Bovee.
11. George B. Carpenter.

III.

Lorentes Carpenter, eldest son of Lyman and Almira (Cook) Carpenter, was born April 4, 1822, in Deerfield. He was reared on the homestead, and in middle life located on the farm which was later the home of his son, Willard S. Carpenter, where he resided six years. He then purchased the Carpenter homestead, and lived there until his death, October 17, 1893. He married May 14, 1846, Lois Seely, daughter of Elanson and Mercy (Howland) Seely. On the paternal side she was a granddaughter of Ebenezer and Mehitable (Todd) Seely, and on the maternal side was granddaughter of John and Lois (Eddy) Howland, all pioneers of Tioga County. Lois (Seely) Carpenter died in Academy Corners, Tioga county, Penn., in the winter of 1910-1911. They had nine children:

1. Mercy S. Carpenter, deceased.
2. Willard S. Carpenter, born November 24, 1848.
3. A. Delphine Carpenter, married Ephraim Shaut.
4. Della Carpenter, married Grant Seely.
5. Hattie Carpenter.
6. Belle Carpenter, married C. Ellsworth Clark.
7. Clara Carpenter, married John Northrup; she is now deceased.
8. Frank Carpenter, twin, married

Mamie Harrison, daughter of Thomas and Jane (Carey) Harrison of Lindley, Steuben Co., N. Y.

9. Frances Carpenter, twin, deceased.

IV.

Willard S. Carpenter, eldest son of Lorentes and Lois (Seely) Carpenter, was born November 24, 1848, in Deerfield. He was reared upon the homestead farm, and obtained his education in the public schools, and in Union Academy. He has spent his entire life in Deerfield, and has resided upon his present farm of 225 acres since 1886, sixty acres of which he cleared. He married, May 14, 1873, Emma Daniels, daughter of Henry F. and Esther (Close) Daniels of Deerfield. In politics he is a Democrat, and in religion is a member of the Baptist Church. He is one of the representative farmers of Deerfield township, as well as a descendant of two of the oldest families of Tioga County. He has had the following four children:

1. Leah Carpenter, married Frank H. Doan.
2. Fred L. Carpenter.
3. Ada E. Carpenter.
4. Walter L. Carpenter, deceased.

Belle Carpenter, daughter of Lorentes and Lois (Seely) Carpenter, married C. Ellsworth Clark, born in Osceola, Tioga county, August 25, 1861, son of Eleazer and Julia (Johnson) Clark of Steuben county, N. Y. His father was a native of Tioga county, a son of Eleazer Clark, Sr. C. Ellsworth Clark was educated in Osceola, and in the business college in Elmira, N. Y., graduating in both places. He later took charge of the old Clark homestead in Steuben county, N. Y., and afterwards of the old Carpenter homestead in Tioga county, Penn. He was a prosperous farmer and one of the representative men of the county. He died November 29, 1893, leaving two children, as follows:

1. Clarence E. Clark.
2. Loren C. Clark.

The Perrys of Virginia

During the last half of the seventeenth century and the first half of the eighteenth we find Micajah Perry, a man of great wealth, and his son Richard, engaged in the commission business in the city of London, England, under the firm name of Perry & Son. Thomas Lane, a contemporary of Micajah Perry in the seventeenth century, was also engaged in the commission business in the same city. Many of the colonists in tidewater Virginia consigned their tobacco and other produce for market to those commission merchants in London. It appears in the inventory of the estate of Colonel Jos. Bridger, of Isle of Wight county, Va., that in 1686 Colonel Bridger had sent several bills of exchange to Micajah Perry & Son to be placed to his credit. In the will of Captain James Day, of Isle of Wight county, Va., dated August 10, 1700, and probated January 9, 1701, Captain Day directed that certain property owned by him in London be sold by his friends, Micajah Perry, Thomas Lane and Richard Perry.

Micajah Perry had several brothers, sisters and other relatives in Virginia. Peter, Joseph, Henry and Benjamin Perry were contemporaries in tidewater Virginia in the latter part of the seventeenth century. So were members of Phillip Perry's family.

Peter Perry, a brother of Micajah Perry, settled in York county, Va. Joseph, Henry and Benjamin Perry belonged to Phillip Perry's family, and from these families sprung the Perry families of North Carolina. A sister of Peter and Micajah Perry married a Mr. Lowe, and they had a son, Micajah Lowe, and three daughters, Susannah, Johanna and Mary. The names of Susannah and Mary have been family names in the Perry families for many generations since. Micajah Lowe and his wife, Sarah, lived in Charles City county, Va., and left issue.

William Edwards, who served in the house of burgesses, from Surrey county, Va., in 1707, first married the daughter of Colonel Benj. Harrison, and after her death, married, second, the daughter of Micajah Lowe, leaving several children by this marriage. Micajah Lowe, in his will, probated in 1703, refers to his uncle, Micajah Perry, of London, and appoints him one of his executors.

During the seventeenth century Micajah Perry was the most conspicuous merchant in England in supplying the planters and colonists in Virginia and North Carolina with goods of all kinds in exchange for their tobacco and other products. He was the banker and commission merchant of those people, and was often the executor of those leaving large estates. The new settlers had unbounded confidence in his ability and honesty of character. He was a frequent visitor to the colonies and was well known there. Often he was sent to America as the duly commissioned agent of the crown to advise and negotiate with the colonists.

Among the largest contributors to the original endowment of William and Mary College in Virginia were Micajah Perry, Thomas Lane and Richard Perry, each giving fifty pounds for that purpose.

Micajah Perry served as alderman of the city of London in the latter part of the seventeenth century and later as lord mayor of London during the reign of William and Mary. He died in 1721, and his mercantile business was continued by his grandsons, Micajah Perry and Phillip Perry.

Skilton

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Joseph Skilton of Dedham and Deborah How of Dorchester were married by Mr. Stoughton, February 25, 1673. Did they have a daughter Deborah Skilton, who married John Cragin (2), April 13, 1700, and lived in Woburn, Mass.?

D. W. S. [401]

Sweet

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Thomas Sweet, son of Benjamin Sweet, was born in the "Redstone country," Pennsylvania, West Augusta district, not many miles from Fort Dunmore, now Pittsburg, about 1760-1765. In the year 1782 he was a private in Captain David Reed's company of the Westmoreland county battalion of Pennsylvania militia. This company was in Colonel Crawford's Sandusky expedition against the Indians, where Colonel Crawford was captured and burned at the stake in the presence of Simon Girty, the renegade. Thomas Sweet married in Pennsylvania in 178—, Mary Neely. In 1789 the family moved to Mason county, Ky., now Fleming county, where Thomas died in 1828.

Thomas and Mary (Neely) Sweet had children as follows:

I. Benjamin Sweet, born December 25, 1786, an obituary notice says in Woodford county, Ky., but as that was the year before the first settlement in Stockton Station in 1787, it was a mistake, as the family of his father moved in the year 1789. He married Mary A. Holmes in Fleming county, Ky., November 20, 1806, moved to Ohio in 1811 and settled in Champaign county near Urbana; died in Middlebury, Champaign county, Ohio, October 19, 1845; eight children.

II. Samuel Sweet, born in Fleming county. He went to the Galena lead mines in southwest Missouri and there is no further trace of him.

III. Joseph N. Sweet, born in Fleming county, in 1790, was a soldier in the war of 1812 and lost a leg, received a land warrant in 1855. He married Mary Popejoy near Washington Court House, Ohio, August 1, 1816; died in Webster, Scioto county, Ohio, 1870. Children.

IV. James Sweet, born in Fleming county, in 1793, married Jane Hughes, in Fleming county, December 31, 1822; died near Tilton, Fleming county, in 1873; had children.

V. John Sweet, born in Fleming county, in 179—, married in Fleming county, July 23, 1824, Rosanah Hughes; died near Tilton; had children.

VI. Joshua Sweet, born in Fleming county, married in Fleming county, March 6, 1822, Hannah Beckner; had children.

VII. Mary Sweet, born in Fleming county, married Aquila Jones.

The records of West Augusta court, held at Fort Dunmore, Penn., dated February 25, 1775, show that "On motion of Henry Heath it is Ord that Silas Dexter Gabriel Cox Richd McMahon Benjamin Sweet Robt Henderson view the most convenient way from Ft. Dunmore to Henry Heath's they being first sworn and make a report of conveniences and inconveniences to the next court." Andrew Heath's plantation was on the left bank of the Monongahela river in what is now Allegheny county.

In the corporation court of Staunton, Augusta county, Va., is a book containing the names of military men of Augusta county of the colonial days and this shows that William Sweet was a member of Captain Francis Kirkley's company in April, 1767; also that Leonard Sweet was a member of Captain James Tate's company.

Can any one give the nativity of these three men, Benjamin, William and Leonard Sweet. Were they descendants of the Rhode Island or Virginia immigrants of that name? Can any one give the exact date of the birth of Thomas Sweet, who married Mary Neely; also the date of his marriage and the name of the place in Pennsylvania where the Neely family lived?

Fisher

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Lieutenant Benjamin Trafton of the Revolution, residence Dighton, Mass., married March 22, 1764, Eunice Fisher of Norton. Can any one give me her correct line, with vital dates? She was evidently the daughter of a John and Mary Fisher of Norton, but which John and Mary? Did her father render Revolutionary service? Any information gratefully received. [394] D. W. S.

Gladding—Wilmot

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Hannah Gladding, born —, married January 3, 1785, in Cheshire, Conn., Elisha Wilmot of the Revolution, son of Asa and Sarah (Johnson) Wilmot. Elisha and Hannah (Gladding) Wilmot had children as follows: 1. Electa Wilmot, married Tillotson Terrell in 1804, and they were among the first settlers of Ridgeville, Ohio, in the Connecticut Western Reserve, in 1810; 2. Betsey Wilmot; 3. Ella (or Elihu) Wilmot, married Lucretia Blair; 4. Silas Wilmot, born October 19, 1790, married Chloe Tyler in August, 1810, emigrated to Eaton township, Ohio, Connecticut Western Reserve, in October, 1810, where they, with two others, were the first white settlers; 5. Ebenezer Wilmot, married, first, Harriet Pardy, and second, Phoebe Matson; 6. Elisha Johnson Wilmot, born in 1793, in Wallingford, Conn., married Jerusha Bright in June, 1824; 7. Hannah Wilmot, married Elias Root; 8. Esther Wilmot, married, first, Harry Blair, and second, Thomas Walden, and settled early in Portage county, Ohio; 9. Cleora Wilmot, married — Jennings and settled early in Portage county, Ohio.

Who were the parents of Hannah Gladding? Her birth is not recorded in Cheshire, Conn. None of the names of her children are Wilmot names, except Elisha Johnson. Silas Gladding and Ebenezer Gladding of Middlesex county, Conn., are given in the 1790 census. They were probably related to Hannah Gladding, as she named two of her children Silas and Ebenezer. Who can tell me anything of their ancestry or of Hannah's? Would be glad to correspond with any one working along Gladding lines. [402] D. W. S.

American Genealogies

This is a list of the genealogies of American families, published in book or pamphlet form, with date of publication. Most of these works that are of early date are now very rare. Copies of them are in most public libraries in the larger cities of the United States and in the libraries of historical societies. Copies also find their way in very small number into book auction sales and into the hands of dealers of second-hand books. Genealogies of recent date are generally procurable from the publishers. Inquiries in regard to these or any other genealogical works may be addressed to the editor of GENEALOGY.

The Kemps of Maryland

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

John Conrad Kemp (Kaempf) and his three sons, Christian, Gilbert and Frederick, the latter under sixteen years of age, arrived at the port of Philadelphia on the ship Samuel, August 17, 1733, and it is supposed came into Maryland via Lancaster county, soon thereafter. Conrad Kemp, the father, settled in the neighborhood of the present town of New Market, where he subsequently laid out the village Kemptown, in that vicinity.

Christian Kemp settled south of his brother Frederick on Ballenger's Creek, on the present Point of Rocks road, on lands in part now opened by the heirs of Christian Thomas. Gilbert and Frederick Kemp settled northwest of the Brunner tracts, on lands now operated by Columbus Kemp, Samuel Miller, and Mrs. F. T. Lakin.

Ludwig Kemp, son of Christian Kemp, was a captain in the brigade commanded by John Michael Raemer in the Revolution, and served efficiently throughout the war.

Henry Kemp, son of Ludwig, served several terms in the legislature, and also was a judge of the orphans court of Frederick county.

Randall

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Can any one tell me whether Priscilla Randall, born to Silas and Priscilla (Simmons) Randall, of Rochester, Mass., was the same Priscilla Randall who married Simeon Randall, probably a relative, in 1786? Rochester had several Priscilla Randalls at that time, and for that reason I have been unsuccessful in tracing the line of my Priscilla Randall who married Simeon Randall. Priscilla being a Mayflower name, it is possible that a Mayflower line may come in here. I have all the lines of Simeon Randall. Would be glad to hear from a Randall-Simmons descendant, either through the columns of the Hartford, Times, or directly to me.

I have the names of the children of Amos and Chloe (Hine) Tyler, but know nothing of their place of residence other than Connecticut. Also, can any one give me any information regarding the parents of Amos Tyler? Was he a grandson of Bezaleel Tyler and Abigail Johnson of Branford, later Sharon, Conn?

Memoranda of the Clemens Family

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

In the first attempts to construct a genealogy of the Clemens family in America, considerable data of a fragmentary nature has been gathered for the first time. Some of this data is printed here for the benefit of those members of the family, who heretofore have been unable to obtain facts regarding their early ancestors prior to the year 1800. Four distinct lines came to America from Germany, from Holland, from Ireland, and from England respectively. Those from Ireland and England settled in New England and Virginia, and those from Holland and Germany in Pennsylvania and New York. The marriage records of Pennsylvania, here given, prior to 1800, are unusually complete.

Whittlesey-Large

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

I am grateful to J. T. K. for his most probable placing of the wife of John (2) Whittlesey, the widow Hannah Large. Will he not add to the account by giving more of the Shipman line. Savage says Edward Shipman's wife is Mary Andrews. I would be glad to know the names of her parents, whether Anderson or Andrews. [428] M. O. L. B.

Owings and Owens of Maryland

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

The earliest trace of the Owens and Owings in Maryland is found in the land records in Annapolis. Grants of land are recorded to Richard Owens in 1654 and to John Owens in 1670.

Samuel Owings, whose name appears in the earliest record of St. Thomas's parish, was the son of Richard and Rachel (Beale) Owings, and was born April 1, 1702, in a little house part stone and part log, two rooms below and two above, located in Green Spring Valley. This cottage was occupied from 1700 until 1780 by successive generations of Owings, being enlarged from time to time. It passed in 1870 into the hands of the Ashland Iron Company. Samuel Owings married January 1, 1729, Urath Romdall, daughter of Thomas and Harriett Romdall. Urath was born January 1, 1713, and was married on her sixteenth birthday. The family record, as contained in Urath Romdall's birth, is a model of neatness. It tells not only the date but also the hour and day of the week when each of the eleven children were born. Issue:

Beale, May 19, 1731.

Samuel, August 17, 1733.

Rachel, May 2, 1736.

Urath, June 26, 1738.

Thomas, October 18, 1740.

Hannah, April 17, 1743, died September 28, 1745.

Christopher, February 16, 1744.

Richard, August 26, 1746, died September 28, 1747.

Rebecca, October 21, 1748.

Richard, July 16, 1749.

Hannah, January 27, 1750.

Urath Owings married Benjamin F. Lawrence, and Thomas Owings married Ruth Lawrence.

Samuel Owings, senior, was one of the commissioners (under the act of the Assembly in 1742) to select and purchase the site of St. Thomas's church.

He was one of His Majesty's justices.
He died April 6, 1775. I. M. S.

Burtner

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

John Burtner was a native of the township of Clinton, Butler county, Penn. He had the following children: Jacob, Philip, William, Daniel, Andrew, Barbara, born in 1797, died in 1882; Betsy, Catherine, born in 1805, died in 1892; Polly and Christina. The parents of John Burtner came to Butler county from Berks county, Penn., late in the eighteenth century, and settled on two hundred acres of land, now known as the Krumpe farm, in Clinton township. The family is of German origin and its members were among the organizers of the German Lutheran church in Saxonburg. I want the name of the wife of John Burtner, dates of birth, marriage and death about 1828, of John Burtner; names of father and mother.

Hill and Horne

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Wanted, ancestry of Polly (or Mary) Horney or Horne, who married Benjamin Hill about 1764. Benjamin was baptized September 20, 1739. See pages 145-150 New Hampshire Historical Society Recorder. He died December 1, 1805. See Madbury, N. H., Town Records. My crude notes say that Polly Horney had one sister who married Mr. Underwood of Portsmouth, N. H. Mrs. Underwood had two daughters, one of whom was married to Harry Burton, the other to Mr. Symes. The children of Benjamin and Polly were: John, David, Hannah, Daniel and Betsy. David was born June 2, 1768 and married Mary Hooper, November 9, 1800. Taken from Madbury, N. H., Town Records. Was Benjamin Hill a Revolutionary soldier?

Chapman

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Isaac Kendall, born July 4, 1709, died May 21, 1748, married in Ashford, Conn., March 15, 1731-2, Mary Chapman. She was born probably about 1710-15. Their children were: 1, Mary, born September 15, 1732; 2, Isaac, born October 6, 1734; 3, Hannah, born June 2, 1737; 4, Jacob (Israel), born March 1, 1738-9; 5, Hannah, born May 6, 1744; 6, John, born July 6, 1743; 7, James, born October 6, 1745.

Isaac Chapman received a grant of land in Mansfield, 1703. William Chapman and Anne, his wife, were admitted to the Congregational church, Mansfield Center, 1717. Ebenezer Chapman, son of William, was born June 17, 1716. William Chapman was in Ashford, 1712, and John Chapman there, 1715. The latter was a first settler of the "Stoddard Tract," 1714. He married in Ashford, April 15, 1716, Penelope Bugbee. William Chapman of Mansfield, married Abigail Lyon, of Woodstock, July 18, 1718. Elizabeth Chapman and Gould Lyon married April 12, 1726. William Chapman was made a freeman of Woodstock, 1749, and Ebenezer Chapman a freeman in 1752.

I want the ancestry of Mary Chapman whom Isaac Kendall married and will pay for information.

Lincoln

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Joseph Russell, born June 5, 1717, died after 1760, married in Ashford, Conn., May 13, 1742, Hannah Linkham, presumably Lincoln. She was probably born about 1720-1726, and died after 1760. Van Vlack or Van Vleck

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Isaac (1) Van Vlack, who died in New York in 1695, left one son, Abraham (2), born in New York in 1688, died in 1742. Abraham (2) had nine children: Isaac, John, Abraham, Jacobus, Henry, Catherine, Mary, Sarah and Cornelius. Of these children, Isaac (3) had the following children: Isaac, Catherine, Peter, Isaac again, Lucretia, Abraham, Buer, Miriam, Henry Arient and Janette. Abraham (4) Van Vlack had nine children: John A., Jacob, Andrew, Abraham, Isaac, Henry, William, Martin and Betsey. John A. (5) Van Vlack, born July 10, 1782, in Dutchess county, N. Y., died February 15, 1859, in Chautauqua county, N. Y. He married, first, Elizabeth Gidley; she was born September 23, 1783, died October 26, 1829; he married, second, Maria James, widow, born in June, 1804, died October 6, 1881. His children by first wife were: Phoebe, Daniel B., Abigail, Sibyl, Althena, Priscilla, Elizabeth Ann, Susan, Edgar, Mary Elizabeth, Ricketson and Rebecca Jane; his children by his second wife were: Currance Ann, Susan, Emeline and Cordelia. I have called Isaac the pioneer, as he is the first that I can, with certainty, connect with this line, but I am not sure he is the pioneer. However, as I was obliged to distinguish them in some way on account of the same names prevailing in each generation, I called him the pioneer. Was Isaac (1) related to Tielman Van Vlack, who was in New Amsterdam in 1658, or to Paulus Van Vlack, who was in Kinderhook in 1702? I should like the name of wife of each of the following: Isaac (1), Abraham (2), Isaac (3), Abraham (4).

Marsh

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

I think my Marsh line is as follows, and if any one can give me anything to the contrary, or can give any additional data of these lines, I will appreciate it very much. The line begins with John and Sarah _____ Marsh of Boston. Wanted their dates. They had three sons in Boston: John, born August 29, 1669; Joseph, born February 3, 1670-1; Bartholomew, born July 3, 1673. Joseph Marsh, son of John and Sarah _____ Marsh, married, in Boston, March 2, 1692-3, Ann Thurogood. Wanted her dates, parentage and ancestry, and the full record of their children. Presumably one of their children was John Marsh, afterward known as Deacon John Marsh of Douglas, Mass. He was born August 2, 1696, and died March 25, 1769. He married, October 6, 1719, Martha Hartshorn. Wanted, her dates, and her parentage and ancestry, and full record of her children.

Evidently Deacon John and Martha (Hartshorn) Marsh were the parents of Joseph Marsh who married in Mendon, Mass., April 26, 1759, Deborah Staples, born June 26, 1741, daughter of Abraham Staples, Abraham (3) Sergeant. Abraham (2), John Staples (1), of Weymouth, Mass., and his third wife, Lydia White, daughter of Thomas and Deborah (Read) White. Wanted date of birth and death of Joseph Marsh, date of death of Deborah (Staples) Marsh, and a full record of their children, two only of whom are recorded in Douglas, Mass. I have proof that they were the parents of Chloe Marsh, born in Mendon, Mass., April 30, 1768, who married there, October 6, 1786, Seth Darling, born in Mendon, March 21, 1764, son of Thomas and Rachel (White) Darling, grandson of Benjamin and Mehitable (White) Darling, great grandson of Dennis and Hannah (Francis) Darling, all of Mendon, Mass. Several children of Joseph and Deborah (Staples) Marsh, as did Seth and Chloe (Marsh) Darling, moved to the vicinity of Woodstock and Hartland, Vermont. Can some one help me with this line, and give me some more reliable data.

Cowen and Davis

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

I have some lost people in New York state, that I wish to find, two generations back of Robert Cowen, who settled in Cambridge, N. Y., 1761, or 1763. And I have been trying to get a certain John Davis traced back to his New England home. John Davis left Saratoga, N. Y., in 1807. He was there in 1787, and probably before.

[429] L. M. C.

Shipman—Large—Whittlesey

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Regarding the Shipman family, in which M. O. L. B. [428] is interested, I can say that Judge L'Hommedieu, the town clerk of Deep River, Conn., an authority upon families thereabouts believes that Edward Shipman's second wife was Mary Anderson. A fact which throws some light upon the subject, although indirectly, is that while Mr. Peck was town clerk of Lyme (his daughter married a Thomas Anderson, perhaps related to Mary), although the records read Anderson, as do the gravestones, he indexed all entries under Andrus or Andrews. Three generations of descendants of Thomas Anderson called themselves by that name. What reason Mr. Peck had for this is a mystery.

Edward Shipman and his daughter, Hannah, settled the estate of John Large of Haddam in 1691.

John Whittlesey was guardian of Phebe and John Large, children of John Large of Haddam. He also bequeathed to Phebe, 'daughter of my wife,' a chest belonging to her grandfather Large. His account book in 1690 contains the entries, "Hannah Larg was born in the year 1686, in November. John Larg was born in February, 1690. Hannah Larg came to life with me June in the year 1697. Martha came to life with me 11th. day of June 1696." H. W. B.

Cole—Jarvis

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Hannah Cole was married in Baltimore county, Md., December 31, 1786, to Orman Jarvis. The parentage of both parties is desired. [430.] M. H. S.

Wood and Farmer

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Who was Mary ——, wife of Jacob (3) Wood of Concord, Mass., (Michael

(2), William (1), author of New England Prospects)? Also I am looking for the parentage of Mary Farmer, born in New Hampshire, between 1690 and 1700. She married Isaac Libbey of Rye, N. H. [431.] S. N. H.

Inman

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Can any of the readers of GENEALOGY tell me who may be interested in the Inman family of Rhode Island? I am desirous of obtaining the maiden name of Mary, wife of Stephen Inman of Gloucester and Cumberland. They had three children, Joseph, born September 23, 1745; Stephen, born April 19, 1750, and Deborah, born August 16, 1748. Stephen Inman, the father, died May 19, 1750, and his widow married March 4, 1752, Lieutenant Joseph Streeter of Wrentham, Mass. I have reason to believe that Mary's maiden name may have been Barton, or that she was descended from that family. Any information of her or of the parentage of her husband, Stephen Inman, with date and place of his birth and marriage, will be acceptable, and any other information relating to the Inman family. Skidmore

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

In the Reynolds-Clements article by E. M. C. [421], I assume that the date, October, 1673, given for marriage of Elizabeth Skidmore is meant for 1763. Presumably the John and Elizabeth Skidmore alluded to are John (4), who married Elizabeth, probably Whitehead and probably a descendant of Daniel Whitehead, born about 1603, died November 16, 1668, age 65, a proprietor of Hempstead, L. I.

If Elizabeth was a daughter of this couple, it is strange that she is not mentioned in the will of her father, probated November 4, 1782. He mentions his wife, Elizabeth, son Whitehead (Skidmore), Phebe, wife of Evert Vanostrand, son Daniel and his children, son Thomas, granddaughter Phebe Skidmore, remainder to be divided among "all my children," my daughter Jane Smith, my son Whitehead Skidmore, my daughter Phebe Vannos [sic], my son John Skidmore, my son Thomas Skidmore and my son Daniel Skidmore, son Samuel Skidmore, already dead, his children, "my granddaughter Phebe is the daughter of my son Joseph Skidmore." Was Elizabeth dead before this date? That would account for her omission.

John Skidmore was the son of Samuel and Susannah — (Samuel died, 1733), he the son of John, born April 11, 1643, died before March 6, 1681, and Susannah —, he the son of Thomas, died, 1684, and Ellen —, his second wife Sarah being mentioned in his will. Wills of John (2) and Samuel (3) are in the New York Historical Society Collections, 1892, p. 107, 1894, p. 101. [434.]

Paine-Blake

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Can some one give me death date of Lydia (Blake) Paine, born August 21, 170—, married Thomas Paine, December 1, 1908. Lydia Blake was daughter of Joseph and Hannah (Hopkins) Blake. Published January 6, 1781. Joseph Blake died January 28, 1840, aged 83 years; he was a Revolutionary soldier. Thomas Paine, born July 2, 1784, had a brother Richard Paine, who married Eunice Blake, a sister of Lydia Blake. The children of Richard and Eunice (Blake) Paine were Martha; Solomon, lived in Westbrook; Freeman, born in 1817; Charles, born in 1820; William, born in 1822; Abner, born in February, 1829.

LINCOLNIANA

The Boston Evening Transcript (Boston, Massachusetts), for May 7, 1913, presents the following:

"Lincolniana Book Plates and Collections" is the alluring title of a little volume recently issued by H. Alfred Fowler, publisher of "The Biblio," of Kansas City, Mo. The book is the outgrowth of an attempt to describe the book plates bearing portraits of Lincoln or other appropriate designs associated with his name. The author, however, found the collections of Lincolniana in which these book plates were used of more interest than the plates themselves, and so Charles W. McLellan, Judd Stewart and J. B. Oakleaf have contributed three delightful little papers on their collections. All are veterans in the field, and it is only to be regretted that similar descriptions could not be given of the collections of Hon. Daniel Fish, J. W. Burton and the late prince of Lincoln collectors, Major W. H. Lambert of Philadelphia. The accounts of the collections are by no means catalogues; they are fragmentary, discursive, written as one talks to a friend about his books—beginning with showing a few things and ending by talking about fellow collectors. It does make one a trifle envious, however, to find Charles Woodbury McLellan describing some of his Lincoln autographs thus:

"The earliest specimen of his writing that I obtained was a page of his copybook written in 1826, when he was 17 years of age; and from 1838 to 1865, twenty-seven years, I have something written by him each year excepting the year 1854. Together with these, I have accumulated quite an interesting collection of letters written to Mr. Lincoln or about him."

Will some kind gentleman who has a Lincoln letter of the date of 1854 send it to Mr. McLellan? It surely will be appreciated. For, as Judd Stewart writes:

"But, after all, the pleasure of pursuit and acquisition is of no worth compared to the friendships formed through my collecting. What a pleasure to receive, some morning when business is all askew, a letter from a 'hated rival,' congratulating one on a new acquisition, or, as sometimes happens, finding in the mail with the compliments of some other collector ('hated rival') an item that you want and have despaired of getting!"

And so J. B. Oakleaf writes that the acquaintance he has formed through his hobby is really worth more to him than his collection. To the new collectors he extends the hand of Lincoln fellowship, "with my heart in it, knowing that what they do, will not only be of service to themselves, but to the community in which they live, and of benefit to their friends."

Mr. Fowler's little book should be owned by every Lincoln collector. It has a handsomely engraved titlepage with a Lincoln portrait, and the Lincoln bookplates of Judd Stewart, H. Alfred Fowler and J. B. Oakleaf are used to embellish the text. A blank Lincoln bookplate is laid in loosely to be put in the owner's copy. The printing is all that could be desired.

The volume contains an especially engraved portrait titlepage by A. N. Macdonald, and especially engraved portrait 'Ex libris Lincolniana' within the cover and upon which the owner may inscribe his name, an original impression of the Lincolniana bookplate of Mr. Judd Stewart, and another engraved plate impression as well as other illustrations.

Edition limited to five hundred copies; bound in boards.

Price, $2.50.

Specimen pages will be sent upon application.

John Benson and his wife Mary, left Southampton, England, in April, 1638, in the ship Confidence. They had a grant of land in Hingham, Mass., the same year, and lived there until 1657, when they moved to Hull, Mass. He died in 1678 and she died in 1681. They brought with them from England, a son, John, born about 1635, and a daughter, Mary. In his will, he mentions sons John, Joseph, and married daughters Hall and Combs, and children of his married daughter Shove deceased.

II.

4. Joseph Benson.

5. John Benson.

6. Isaac Benson.

7. Moses Benson, born in 1736; lived in Douglas, Mass.

Can any one add further data of the family of Benoni Benson and his wife Sarah (Thayer) Benson. I would like dates in full of him and his children, and especially of his daughter Susanna who married first Thayer, second Aaron White, son of Joseph and Pru-

WHOLE NO. 57

The Garbutt Family
 [Contributed to GENEALOGY.]
 By ORRIN PEER ALLEN.

John and Mercy (Cady) Garbutt were among the early settlers in Monroe county, N. Y., and leaders in promoting its affairs.

I.

John Garbutt, son of Zachariah and Phebe (Nairn) Garbutt was born in England in 1780. He migrated from Winston, England, in the fall of 1798, having his parents with him; they landed at New York city, and located first near Ossining, N. Y., where they remained for two years. Thence they moved on to Seneca where they remained for five years. John Garbutt had learned the trade of a shoemaker in England, so his first effort in his new home was at the bench in order to gain a support and to pay off the borrowed money necessary to transport himself and parents to the new world, which he soon accomplished. In 1805 he made a permanent settlement on Allen's Creek, now Garbutt, in the township of Wheatland, N. Y., where he became a prosperous farmer, and the hamlet which grew up around him took his name when he became a man of affairs.

John Garbutt's ability was soon recognized by his fellow citizens. He was chosen to be surveyor and held many town offices in turn; was supervisor of Caledonia in 1820, before the division of the town, and Wheatland's first supervisor in 1821. He represented Monroe county in the New York Legislature in 1829. He was one of the founders of the Farmers' library, buying and bringing home the first books for the same. He served in the war of 1812 in Capt. Levi Lacy's Company. He died in Garbutt, March 13, 1855, and is buried in the Garbutt cemetery.

John Garbutt married Mercy Cady, daughter of Rufus and Lydia (Wheeler) Cady, born in Dalton, Mass., March 27, 1788, and died in Garbutt, December 13, 1848. She was descended from Nicholas Cady of Watertown, Mass., 1645, through James (2), John (3), William (4), William (5), her father Rufus (6). She removed from Dalton, Mass., with her parents in 1809 and settled near the present village of Garbutt in the township of Wheatland, Monroe county, N. Y., where she married John Garbutt.

John and Mercy (Cady) Garbutt had ten children, born in Garbutt.

1. Lydia Garbutt, date of birth not given, married Jefferson Edmunds. They had three children, Zachariah, Eddy M., and Milton Edmunds, each of whom died young.

2. Minerva Garbutt, born April 17, 1812, died March 6, 1813.

3. Zachariah Garbutt, removed to Illinois, no further data of him.

10. Mary L. Garbutt, born February 7, 1826, died September 5, 1828.

1. George H. Garbutt, died April 10, 1842.

2. Volney J. Garbutt, died April 24, 1866, aged 20 years. He was a member of Mack's famous battery in the late Civil war.

3. Jane E. Garbutt, died June 28, 1872, aged 24 years.

III.

N. B.

I wish the following precautions taken concerning this paper. Let it be spread out and pressed smooth between two flat surfaces so as to take out the folds entirely. Then let some paste be made strengthened by a small infusion of glue. Let it be brushed over with that paste and laid neatly on a smooth board. Leave a little moulding or bead around the edge of the board, by way of ornament, and hang it up in your parlor.

Then let your children view it at times and while they revere the names of their ancestors, inculcate in them a high and noble spirit to maintain and perpetuate the dignity of the family.

I presume that the times of the births and deaths of my fathers, brothers and sisters might be ascertained as also the time of the births of my brothers and sisters for which I have accordingly left blanks.

White-Thornton

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Will someone interested in the Thornton family, tell me anything concerning the parentage and ancestry, with dates, of Mehitable Thornton who married in Boston, Mass., December, 1687, Thomas White. He evidently was the son of Captain Joseph and Lydia (Rogers) White, and a grandson of the first Thomas White of Weymouth, Mass. My ancestress Mehitable (White) Darling, wife of Benjamin Darling of Mendon, Mass., was a daughter of Thomas and Mehitable (Thornton) White of Mendon, Mass., and I am very anxious to learn something concerning her Thornton ancestors, if Mehitable Thornton proves to be the mother of Mehitable (White) Darling. Any information on this point will be very much appreciated. Mehitable (White) Darling was born January 22, 1689, in Mendon, Mass., and married there June 11, 1708, Benjamin Darling, son of the first Denice and Hannah (Francis) Darling of Braintree and Mendon. Wanted also the date and place of the death of Mehitable (White) Darling. She must have died before 1760, as Benjamin Darling married second in April, 1760, to widow Susannah, daughter of Benoni Benson, and widow first of a Mr. Thayer (wanted his name), and second of Aaron White, son of Joseph and Prudence (Smith) White. Wanted also the date and place of the death of Susannah.

Day-Dumbleton

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Wanted the names of the parents and their ancestry, of Mary Dumbleton, who married July 22, 1697, Samuel Day of West Springfield, Mass. He was born May 20, 1671, and died October 19, 1729, aged fifty-eight. His widow Mary died May 17, 1759. Wanted the date and place of her birth. It is said that she was the daughter of John and Lydia (Leonard) Dumbleton of Springfield, Mass., but I would like this verified, together with the ancestry of both her father and mother, with a list of the children, with dates, in each generation back of and including Mary Dumbleton.

Benson—White—Staples

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Can anyone interested in the Benson family of Mendon, Mass., tell me whether Benoni Benson, born in 1724, son of Benoni and Sarah (Thayer) Benson, married, in 1742, Abigail Staples, born October 12, 1729, Mendon, Mass., daughter of Abraham⁴ Staples (Abraham³, Abraham², John¹), and first wife Abigail (Taft) Staples. It is said that the above Abigail (Staples) Benson had a son when she was only thirteen years old, but I have record of this marriage as (probably occurring in Mendon) January 30, 1752, at which time Abigail Staples would have been 23 years of age.

It seems to be claimed by some that Benoni Benson, Jr., son of Benoni and Sarah (Thayer) Benson, married Abigail White, daughter of Joseph and Prudence (Smith) White, of Uxbridge, Mass., and that after the death of Abigail (White), Benoni Benson, her husband, married 2d to Abigail Staples. If this is the case, Abigail (White) must have died before 1752. The above Prudence (Smith) White was the wife of Joseph⁴ White, son of Joseph³ (Capt. Joseph², Thomas¹ White, of Weymouth, Mass.), and Lydia (Copeland) White, and after the death of Joseph⁴ White, in 1737, Prudence, his widow, married, in Mendon, Mass., September 3, 1739, to Benoni Benson, of Mendon, Mass. He was the son of Joseph² (wife's name wanted) Benson, and grandson of John¹ and Mary () Benson, of Hingham, Mass.

Benoni³ Benson, yeoman of Mendon, Mass., married first (date wanted) Sarah Thayer, daughter of Josiah and Sarah (Bass) Thayer, and granddaughter of Ferdinand Thayer, of Braintree, Mass. Wanted, dates of this family and full record of children.

Benoni³ Benson died in 1761, and is buried in the Chestnut Hill Cemetery, Mendon, Mass. His widow, Prudence (Smith) White Benson, made her will January 14, 1785, in which she bequests to the heirs of her beloved daughter Abigail Benson the same amount which she bequests to her other daughters, Prudence Albee and Rachel Darling. Mentions her sons Joseph White, Peter White, heirs of son Aaron White, deceased, Moses White, Ebenezer White; also mentions son-in-law, Benoni Benson to be executor.

The Uxbridge and Mendon records give the above children to Joseph and Prudence (Smith) White, and also Sarah, born November 8, 1724, Mendon; who is not mentioned in her mother's will. What became of her?

The above Aaron White, son of Joseph and Prudence, was born May 22, 1717, in Mendon, Mass. According to the Mendon records, he married, December 15, 1739, Susannah Thayer, of Mendon, but he is called of Uxbridge. She was the daughter of Benoni Benson —Thayer evidently for her first husband. Wanted, his name, dates of parentage. Susannah married, second, Aaron White, who died before April 17, 1760, at which time, in Mendon, Mass., she married her third husband, Benjamin Darling, gentleman of Mendon, whose first wife was Mehitable White, daughter of Thomas and Mehitable (Thornton) White, granddaughter of Capt. Joseph and Lydia (Rogers) White, and great granddaughter of the first Thomas White, of Meyenorth, Mass.

Now, then, Joseph White, husband of Prudence, died in 1737, and his property was divided between his widow and children, Joseph, Peter, Aaron, Moses, Ebenezer, Abigail, Sarah, Prudence and Rachel. I have wondered if Sarah did not die young, as she is not mentioned in the will of her mother, Prudence Benson, in 1785, and did above Abigail White marry Benoni Benson, or did the widow Prudence (Smith) White Benson, in speaking of her daughter, Abigail Benson, mean Abigail (Staples) Benson, wife of Benoni Benson, Jr.

In September 18, 1769, the heirs of Abraham Staples were widow Lydia (she was Lydia White, daughter of Thomas (Joseph, Capt. Joseph, Thomas) and Deborah (Read) White) and children Abraham, Nahor, Abigail Benson, Lydia Holbrook, Thankful Fletcher, Deborah Marsh, Ruth Craggin, Chloe Staples.

Could it be that Abigail Staples married some other Benson and that Abigail White married Benoni Benson, Jr., or did Benoni Benson, Jr., marry these two Abigails, Abigail White and Abigail Staples?

The Hollister Family in America

By HARRIET COLEMAN FORESTER.

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

1. Lieut. John Hollister, the ancestor of the American family of that name, was born in England, 1612, and immigrated to America in 1642. He sailed from Bristol, England, and settled in Connecticut, where he became one of the most prominent and influential men of Withersfield. His name first appears in the annals of Conn. Colony as juror of a court held March 2, 1642. He was admitted freeman in 1643, was a deputy in 1644-45, and represented the town of Withersfield many times until 1656.

Lieut Hollister with Thomas Coleman and Nathaniel Dickinson were appointed for Withersfield, October 3, 1654, to assist the deputy governor to get men for an expedition against the Indians. His name first appears as Lieut. Hollister in March, 1658-9. He was appointed collector in Withersfield, March 14, 1660, and was a large land owner, especially in that part of Withersfield, lying east of the Connecticut River, now known as Glastonbury.

Hoffman-Poznanski Estates

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Mr. Joseph Luria, official investigator of the above estates, formerly a resident of Montclair, N. J., now at No. 135 Broadway, Room 1109, New York City, is seeking the heirs of the following members of the "Hoffman-Poznanski" family. One may have assumed the name "Ooscher" or "Ascher". The "Hoffman" are originally from Portugal, then some went to Bavaria, Germany, from there to Russian Poland, some going back to Germany and all parts of the world, including the U. S. A., some staying in Russia, where many members of the family are now:

1. George Hoffman-Poznanski (also called "Guedaliah," Hebrew name) or any assumed name, born in a small place called Briskujawski, near Wloslavek, Russian Poland, supposed to have died in Transvaal, South Africa in 1844. George was one of the youngest sons of a certain "Haskell" (meaning Henri) Hoffman, who went from Bavaria to Russia. Haskell had nine children, seven boys and two daughters. George left his native place when young, after a quarrel with his family who disapproved of his love affair with a Christian girl, whom he later eventually married, after having said to have had several children. He travelled, settled in Bavaria, where he was a brewer, then emigrated to the Transvaal and is supposed to have died there, leaving a large fortune. He is supposed to have left a will, cutting off his brothers and sisters; his will was not to be opened until after fifty years from the time of his death, the 50 years having elapsed in 1894. The money was to go to the descendants of his family; however, it cannot be paid before all the heirs can be traced, which Mr. Luria expects to do.

Abraham, Benjamin, Hyman (in Hebrew "Chain"), Rubin, Wolf, Rosie, etc., are some of the names of his brothers and sisters. Some of them kept the original name "Hoffman," others, for special reasons, changed their name into "Poznanski," which is equivalent to "Son of the Posen country." Posen in Polish means "Poznan."

2. Julius Posner, or Poznanski, who was a "Hoffman." He may have been a son of Benjamin, who went to Australia. Julius went to Africa and Australia and is supposed to have died there some few years ago, also leaving a very large fortune. Some heirs are in this country (New Jersey, Pennsylvania, etc.)

3. Ephraim Posner, or Poznanski, who was a Hoffman. Probably a descendant of one of George's brothers; he is supposed to have died in London, England. His heirs must also be in this country.

4. Moritz Posner, or Poznanski, who was a Hoffman, of same family. He is supposed to have died in this country, leaving a large estate.

Mr. J. Luria, who has advertised extensively in this country and abroad has so far received letters from persons claiming to be heirs, called "Hoffman" and "Posner or Poznanski," many of them coming from this country. Some are Jewish, some are Christians, because George is supposed to have turned to Christianity, although his brothers remained Hebrews.

The persons who believe they are interested can write for more information to Mr. J. Luria, 135 Broadway, Room 1109, New York City.

The Thom Family in America

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

My great-grandfather, John Thom, came to this country sometime before the Revolutionary war. He was of Scotch-Irish descent, and a man of means. He settled near the center of Guilford Co., North Carolina, and married Miss Ellenor Kerr. If I have been correctly informed, he was accompanied to this country by a brother, James Thom, who settled in Virginia. I know very little of his family, but I think a great-grandson of his is Counsel for the Southern Railway, with headquarters at Washington, D. C. Before going to Washington, he was a lawyer in Norfolk, Va.

Children of John Thom and Ellenor Kerr Thom:

Mary Thom, born April 30, 1771.

Katherine Thom, born Dec. 3, 1772.

William Thom, born Nov. 11, 1774.

David Thom, born Oct. 1, 1776, and died Sept. 7, 1825.

James Thom, born Sept. 4, 1778.

John H. Thom, born Sept. 30, 1780, died April 29, 1847.

Daniel Thom, born Aug. 4, 1782, died March 16, 1791.

Ellenor Thom, born July 14, 1786.

Ebenezer Thom, born Nov. 16, 1788.

Daniel Thom, born Aug. 20, 1791.

Jean Thom, born Sept. 24, 1793, married a Mr. Gorrell; has several great-grandchildren living in Guilford County.

Daniel Thom has three daughters and one son still living in Greensboro, N. C., Mrs. William Sharp, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. Lindsay Stewart, and Mr. James Thom. I only remember that two of the children married Gorrells, one a widow Gilmer, one a Wiley.

James Thom died March 13, 1845.

Mary Donnell Thom born July 26, 1776, died March 5, 1844. James Thom and Mary Donnell were married April 9, 1801.

Children of James E. Thom (son of Donnell Thom):

Eliza Donnell Thom born April 16, 1802, married John McLean; had two children, Mary and Joseph, died in 1871.

Tirza Kerr Thom born Oct. 25, 1804, died March 16, 1818.

Levi Harper Thom born June 28, 1806, died July 13, 1874, married in Illinois, had one daughter Mary, who married a Mr. Magner in that state.

Addi Edmond Thom born Oct. 20, 1808, married Miss Mary Taylor of New York. He was a Presbyterian minister, served as pastor in churches in Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. Was president of Austin College, Texas, for several years. At the time of his death was president of a female college in Louisiana. He has two daughters living, Mrs. G. A. Walter and Mrs. Pierce, both of Hillsboro, Illinois. One son was missing about the close of the Civil War; was with the Bible House in Chicago when last heard from. Rev. Addie E. Thom died suddenly on his way from attending the General Assembly during the latter part of the War.

John Robert Thom, born Oct. 7, 1810, married Mary Jane McLean, has three children living, Joel J. Thom of Missouri (Neosho), Henry Thom somewhere in Illinois; John A. Thom, China Grove, North Carolina.

James Emsley Thom, born June 27, 1817, married Anna Woollen, had five children, only two living, Mary Thom Thacker, and Julius A. Thom of Columbia, Missouri. My father died Aug. 30, 1897.

Mary E. Thom, born Jan. 23, 1821, died Dec. 30, 1845 (unmarried).

Children of James E. Thom (son of James Thom and Mary Donnell Thom), who married Anna Woollen, March 10, 1836:

Martha Elizabeth Thom, born March 12, 1837, married Capt. Samuel C. Rankin, Oct. 12, 1867, has three sons Walter Lacy Rankin, who died about seven years ago, leaving a widow and one child in Florence, S. C.; Charles A. Rankin, Fayetteville, N. C.; Henry A. Rankin, Fayetteville, N. C.

Rogers of Long Island

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

It is known from official records that William Rogers and his wife, Anna, were on Long Island, in Southampton and Huntington in 1648 and after. He died in Huntington between 1659 and 1667. Various statements and claims have been made concerning the earlier history of this William Rogers. It is asserted that he was a son of Thomas Rogers of Plymouth, Mass., who came on the Mayflower in 1620; that he came to Plymouth several years after his father arrived; that he went to Wethersfield, Conn., from Plymouth, and subsequently to Stamford, Conn., and Hempstead, L. I., before he finally settled in Southampton; that he was not a son of Thomas Rogers, the Mayflower pilgrim, but of another Thomas Rogers of England; that he came direct to Connecticut from England and was never in Plymouth, Mass.; that he was never in Connecticut, but came first to Long Island. In the Connecticut colony, 1630-1650, there were several of the name—William Rogers—in Wethersfield and elsewhere. Recent research seems to show that this William Rogers of Long Island did not leave England until after 1636.

Where then was the William Rogers of Long Island between 1636 and 1648? Was he a William Rogers of Connecticut and if so, which one? There has been plenty of guess work and assumption covering these points, but what is now wanted is reference to authoritative records. "Tradition," "say-so," "probably," "apparently," without much doubt," "grandfather used to say that his grandfather knew," etc., etc., such evidence is worse than worthless. Reliable records are wanted and reliable records only. Can William Rogers be surely located anywhere before he was in Southampton in 1648 and can he be positively identified with a colonial William Rogers prior to that date?

EARLY VIRGINIA WILLS

Abstracts of Recently Discovered Records

(Transcribed from original sources)

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

By WILLIAM M. CLEMENS

The following abstracts of early Virginia wills, have been carefully transcribed from the records in Lexington, Rockbridge County, Bedford City in Bedford County, Manasses in Prince William County, Amherst in Amherst County, Leesburg in Loudoun County, and Rustburg in Campbell County, Virginia.

Prince William County was established in 1730, being taken from King George and Stafford Counties. Bedford County was established in 1753, being taken from Lunenburg County. Loudoun County was established in 1757, being taken from Fairfax County. Amherst County was established in 1761. Rockbridge County was established in 1778, being taken from Augusta County. Campbell County was established in 1784, being taken from Bedford County.

In many of the Virginia counties the court houses were destroyed by fire during the Civil War and the county records were destroyed, either in whole or in part. In Leesburg, Loudoun County, one will book is missing and in Prince William County four books, covering a period of twenty years, are nowhere to be found. In Rockingham County there are neither wills nor deeds prior to 1865, but here I found marriage records and fee books as early as 1774 in a forgotten corner.

In the following alphabetical list of early Virginia wills, a chronological order is preserved in order to show descent or generation, and particular care has been taken to follow the quaint, original spelling of surnames as well as forenames, occurring in the original records.

Some New England Queries

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

1. William Stark of Stonington, Conn., born 1664, died 1730, married Elizabeth _____. Her maiden name and parentage wanted.
2. Aaron Stark, born 1608, died 1685, of Stonington, Conn., or vicinity, had supposedly sons Aaron, John and William and daughters, Margaret and Elizabeth. Any information about Aaron's wife, or the wives or husbands of his children is desired.
3. David Cary, son of John, of Bridgewater, Mass., moved to Bristol, R. I., and there married, Dec. 1687, Elizabeth. Her surname and parentage wanted. Their children were baptized at the Church of Christ, Bristol.
4. Daniel Pearce of Prudence Island, R. I., was twice married. First wife unknown, second wife, whom he married, Dec. 13, 1703, Elizabeth Tucker or Tabor of same place. All information about both these wives desired.
5. Nicholas Spink of North Kingston, R. I., died 1733. Married (1) Abigail, (2) Sarah. Maiden names of these wives desired.
6. Who was the wife of Nathan Birdsall of Salem, Mass., and Easthampton, and Oysterbay, L. I., died about 1698. She may have been related to the Mrs. Joshua Garlick of Easthampton, who was tried for witchcraft in 1657.
7. Who was the Rebecca Elwell, who married John Birdsall of Pawling, N. Y.? She died at Harpersfield, N. Y., Oct. 15, 1806, in her 69th year.
8. Reuben Reynolds, who died Aug. 3, 1819, had sons James, born 1771, and Israel, born 1782, both of whom are first heard of at Kortright, Delaware Co., N. Y. Who is this Reuben? He undoubtedly belonged to the Greenwich, Conn. family. Whom did he marry, and what other children did he have? Any information regarding him is much desired. Also any information regarding a Reuben Reynolds of Chatham, N. Y., born March 14, 1734-5, at Greenwich, who married Hedzibah ——, of New Rochelle, N. Y. They had a son Andrew, born 1764, who was an early settler of Kortright. This is Reuben's only known child, but I believe him to be the Reuben, father of James and Israel, who died 1819. I should be very grateful for any clue to this family.
9. Eliab Wilcox, born 1732, married Jerusha Spencer, born 1735. He and his wife joined the Baptist church at South Dover, Dutchess Co., N. Y., in 1758. Eliab was probably a brother of Elizabeth Wilcox of Dover, and Jerusha, a sister of Reuben Spencer of Clinton, Dutchess Co., but both these relationships are surmise only. The parentage of both Eliab and Jerusha are very much desired.
10. Who were the parents of Chloe Sackett of Amenia, Dutchess Co., N. Y., who June 22, 1784, married Reuben Wilcox of South Dover?
11. Joseph Shaw married before 1792 an Agnes, who was probably related in some way to Walter and Martha Lockwood of Unionville, Dutchess Co., N. Y., who also lived in New York City. In 1827 the Shaws were living in Yates Co., N. Y., where Joseph probably died soon after. His widow and several of his children moved to New London, Ohio. Joseph's only known relative aside from wife and children was a younger half brother John, born 1784, who also settled in Yates Co. Any information about this Shaw family is greatly desired.
12. Joseph Woodworth, born 1696, at Little Compton, R. I., married there Oct. 17, 1723, Anna Manchester. Who were her parents?
13. Two Henry Dyers of Lebanon, Conn., were married in 1725-1726, one at Lebanon to Mary Rice, one at Boston to Hannah Holbrook. One Henry lived and died in Lebanon, the other after his marriage lived at Boston, and died there. Can anyone straighten out these two? I wish very much to learn the parentage of each. They probably both belonged to the R. I. Dyers. I also desire the parentage of Mary Rice.

14. Robert Rumsey was at Fairfield, Conn., in 1664, where he married Rachel Frost. Who were his parents. Also who were the wives and husbands of his children, especially of Robert. They all lived at or near Fairfield.

15. Information is wanted about the Patchen family of Fairfield, Conn., and vicinity. Who was the Mary Hubbard, who married Jacob Patchen before 1694, and who probably had first married some Grumman? Whom did Jacob, son of Jacob and Mary (Hubbard) Patchen marry? He was born about 1701. All marriages of the children of Jacob and Mary desired.

16. Who were the parents of the Martha Finch who married Dec. 5, or 30, 1723, Nathan Hubbell. They settled at Wilton, Conn. She was born about 1701.

One Line of the Darling Family

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

By CARLOS PARSONS DARLING, B. L.

I.

Dennis¹ Darling, of Braintree and Mendon, Mass. (Parentage as yet unknown).

Married in Braintree, Mass., by Peter Brackett, J. P., November 3, 1662, to Hannah Francis. (Her parentage is not established although she may have been a daughter of John and Rosa Francis of Braintree).

Dennis and Hannah (Francis) Darling had the six following children in Braintree, and four in Mendon: Cornelius, Capt. John, Anson, Sarah, Cornelius, Hannah, Ebenezer, Daniel, Elizabeth, Benjamin. Dennis¹ Darling died in Mendon, Mass., January 25, 1717, age 77 years. Date of death of Hannah, his wife, is unknown.

II.

Benjamin² Darling, youngest child of Dennis¹ and Hannah (Francis) Darling, was born in Mendon, Mass., February 11, 1687. He married in Mendon, June 11, 1708, Mehitable White, born there January 22, 1689, daughter of Thomas (3) and Mehitable (Thornton) White, and grand-daughter of Capt. Joseph (2) and Lydia (Rogers) White, and great granddaughter of the first Thomas (1) White of Weymouth Mass.

Mehitable (White) Darling died after 1730 and was the mother of eleven children. Benjamin Darling married (2), in Mendon, Mass., April 17, 1760, Susanna (Benson) Thayer White, evidently the widow of same Thayer, also widow of Aaron⁵ White (Joseph⁴, Joseph³, Capt. Joseph², Thomas¹), and daughter of Benoni³ Benson (Joseph², John¹) and his first wife Sarah (Thayer) Benson.

Benjamin² Darling died Mendon, Mass., May 18, 1772, and is buried in the old cemetery at Chestnut Hill, Town of Blackstone, Mass. Have no date of Susanna's death, but it was after 1770.

She was the mother of one child. Children of Benjamin Darling by his two wives are as follows: Mehitable, Deborah, Benjamin, Joseph, Ebenezer, Peter, Hannah, Abigail, Samuel, Elizabeth, Thomas and Anna.

III.

Thomas³ Darling, youngest son of Benjamin and Mehitable (White) Darling, was born in Mendon, Mass., May 7, 1730. He married, Mendon Mass., December 14, 1749, Rachel White, born in Uxbridge, Mass., November 14, 1732. daughter of Joseph⁴ (Joseph³, Capt. Joseph², Thomas¹) and Prudence (Smith) White.

Thomas Darling died Mendon, Mass., October 22, 1776, in his 47th year, and is buried near his father in the cemetery at Chestnut Hill. The tombstone records his death as occurring in 1778, in his 47th year, but this is a mistake as the inventory of his estate was taken January 23, 1777. His widow, Rachel, married second, February 1, 1787, to James Albee of Uxbridge, Mass., widower of her sister Prudence (White) Albee. Rachel died between 1787-1795. Children of Thomas and Rachel (White) Darling are as follows and all were born in Mendon: Rhoda, Joanna, Rachel, Prudence, Simon, Seth, Benjamin, John, Nathan, Alpheus.

IV.

Seth⁴ Darling, sixth child and second son of Thomas and Rachel (White) Darling, was born in Mendon, Mass., March 21, 1764. Married in Mendon, October 6, 1786, Chloe Marsh, born in Mendon, April 30, 1768, daughter of Joseph and Deborah (Staples) Marsh, and grand-daughter of Deacon John⁸ (Joseph², John¹) and Martha (Hartshorn) Marsh of Douglas, Mass. Seth and Chloe (Marsh) Darling moved in 1786-7 to Hartland, Vt., then in 1795 to Woodstock, Vt., and in these two places had twelve children as follows: Smith, Prudence, Chloe, Seth, Jason, Horace, George, Lewis, Jefferson, Madison, Nelson, Charles. Seth Darling, the father, died suddenly in Woodstock, Vt., March 27, 1825; his widow Chloe, died in Woodstock, October 21, 1838, both are buried in a rural cemetery at Woodstock, Vt.

V.

Luke and Nancy (Streeter) Parsons, and grand-daughter of Lieut. Samuel⁴ Lieut. William³, Capt. John², Joseph¹) and Lucy (Pomeroy) Parsons of Northampton, Mass., and of Johnson⁵ and Lydia (Mason) Streeter. Johnson⁵, (Lieut. Joseph⁴, Joseph³, Stephen², Stephen¹), Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Darling moved in 1831 to Lawrenceville, Tioga Co., Pa., where they had eight children as follows: Otis L., Lewis G., Luke P., Bostock J., Horace M., Lewis, Thomas V., and Emeline G.

Money in Chancery

The Paymaster of the Supreme Court of Great Britain has published in a special supplement to the "London Gazette" the statutory triennial list of dormant funds in the various courts, including Chancery, King's Bench, Probate and Divorce, and the King's Remembrancer, as well as the now extinct courts of Common Pleas and Exchequer. The supplement runs to over 200 pages of names alphabetically indexed, and all funds of not less than £50 are included. The aggregate amount of these funds is about £1,250,000, distributed over more than 3,800 separate accounts. One-half do not exceed £150 in value, and only about one-twentieth exceed £1,000. The list should be of service to persons desiring information as to the origin of a fund in court, and any such person finding reason to believe that he may be interested in a particular case may apply, in writing only, to the Assistant Paymaster-General, Royal Courts of Justice, London, who at his discretion may supply information as to the amount of the fund and the date of an order of court known to relate to it. This report shows how false and misleading are the claims often made in the United States that there are millions in chancery for certain, alleged great estates, like the Lord Baltimore and other fabulous legacies.

Buxton-Flynt

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Will the Flint correspondent kindly tell me if the emigrant Anthony Buxton of Salem, was a son of Henry Buxton of Motlocke, Derbyshire, who was mentioned in the will of his brother-in-law, Anthony Flint, of Motlocke, Derby, who died 1623, leaving wife Marie. Presumably Henry Buxton married a Flint. James died before September 22, 1590, when his will was proved. All the children were then minors except Johan, who had married Edward Bowes. Warren

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

William Warren died at Hartford, Conn., in Oct. 1689. His first wife is unknown. He married Elizabeth Crowe, daughter of John Crowe. He was a surveyor of highways 1687, and was made a freeman 1658 at Hartford. He bought land there 1669. His will was proved Oct. 24, 1689. He first appears at Hartford, March 2, 1653-4, as a minor, and a servant to Capt. Cullick of Hartford, and was therefore born after the date 1633. His second wife was born in 1650. His children were William, John, Thomas, Abraham and Abigail. Was he a son of Abraham Warren of Ipswich, who died there 1654? John Warren, his son, died at Hartford, July 31, 1722. He married Mary —, probably about the year 1689 since he bought land that year. Mary, his wife died 1718. Their daughter, Elizabeth, was baptised Dec. 29, 1695, at Hartford, and married Benjamin Hills before 1723. Can "M. W. M." give me the names of the Warren wives, or the parents of William? There was a John Warren in Rhode Island about 1640. Was he a relative?

Early New Jersey Court Records

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Following is a copy of a document contained in the record book in the Monmouth county clerk's office at Freehold, N. J. This book contains the records of official doings of all kinds in that county from 1688 to 1721.

Here is a copy of the record:

March 25th, 1701. Monmouth co.

At a Court of Sessions, held for the county of Monmouth, at Middletowne, in the county aforesaid, and province of East New Jersey.

Being present: Coll. Andrew Hamilton, Governor Louis Morris, Samuel Leonard, Esqrs. of the Governor's Council; Jedidiah Allen, Samuel Dennis, Justices.

The court being opened, one Moses Butterworth, who was accused of piracy, and had confessed that he did sail with Capt. William Kid in his last voyage, when he came from the East Indies and went into Boston with him, and was bound to make his appearance at this court that he might be examined and disposed of according to his Magistries' orders, the said Butterworth was called and made his appearance, and when the court was examining him one Samuel Willet in holden said that the Governor and Justices had no authority to hold court and he would break it up, and accordingly went down stairs to a company of men then in arms and sent up a drummer, one Thomas Johnson, into the court, who beat his drum and several of the company came up with their arms and clubs which, together with the drum continually beating, made such a noise (notwithstanding often proclamations made to desist and keep the King's peace) that the court could not examine the prisoner at the bar, and when there was, as the Court judged, betwixt thirty and forty men come up into the court, some with their arms and some with clubs, two persons, viz: Benjamin Borden and Richard Borden, attempted to rescue the prisoner at the bar, and did take hold on him by the arms and about the middle and force him from the bar, the constable and under sheriff, by the command of the Court, apprehended the said Borden, upon which the Justices and King's attorney-general of the province then present (after commanding the King's peace to be kept, and no heed being given thereto) drew their swords and endeavored to retake the prisoners and apprehend some of the persons concerned in the rescue, but was resisted and assaulted themselves, and the examination of the prisoner torn in pieces, and in the scuffle both Richard Borden and Benjamin Borden were rescued.

But the endeavors of the Court were not effective in retaking the prisoner, for he was rescued and carried off and made his escape, and the people, viz:

Capt. Saftine Grover	Jonathan Stout
Richard Borden	James Stout
Benjamin Borden	William Hendricks
Obadiah Holmes	John Bray
Obadiah Bowne	William Smith
Nicholas Stephens	Garson Mot
George Cook	Abner Houghs
Benjamin Cook	George Allan

Samuel Willet,	John Vaughn
Joseph West	Elisha Lawrence
Garret Bowler	Zebulon Clayton
Garret Wall	James Grover, Jr.
James Bolles	Richard Davis

William Winters	Joseph Ashton

with others to the number of about one hundred persons, did traytorously seize the Governor and the Justices, the King's Attorney-General and secretary and the clerk of the court and the under sheriff, and kept them under guard, close prisoners from Tuesday, the twenty-fifth of March, till the Saturday following, being the twenty-ninth of the same month, and then released them.

King-Le Valley

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Who was Sarah _____, wife of Peter Le Valley¹, the emigrant? When were they married; when and where were they born and when did she die? Peter died at Warwick, R. I., 1756.

Their daughter Marie² married about 1727 a Mr. King, called variously, Maglon¹, Magdalen, Madylene, etc. What was his true name? He is said to have been born Aug. 23, 1702. The date of death on his tombstone resembles 1795 more closely than 1775. I should like very much the correct dates of their birth, marriage and death, and the locality. Their known sons were 1, John; 2, Samuel; born Feb. 1745, at Warwick, 3, Paul, born 1751, at Warwick. Samuel's son Joel (1787-1867) of Pompey, Onondaga co., N. Y., was a soldier in 1814 of the War of 1812. I have this record which says he was in a N. H. militia. Is this correct? Why N. H. instead of N. Y.?

In Mather's Hist. of the Refugees of L. I. 1776, he mentions a William, Samuel and a Joel King. Will someone who has access to this valuable work please tell me what family these three men belonged to, and were they related to Samuel King² of West Greenwich, Rhode Island (1745-1829), son of Maglon¹, King¹ and father of Joel King³ (1787-1867) of Pompey, Onondaga county, New York. Did Samuel of R. I. have Revolutionary service of record? Did Samuel of L. I.

have military service of that period? A Samuel King, minute man, enlisted in Col. Josiah Smith's regt. residence Southampton, L. I., 1776. To what colony did he flee? To R. I.? To what family did he belong? Did the L. I. family come originally from N. Y. as did so many Long Island families? Any help on this line would be very, very welcome. Are the Le Valleys mentioned among other Huguenots in the "Hist. of New Rochelle, N. Y." and the "Hist. of Rye, N. Y.?"

Maglon¹ King and family seem to have left Warwick shortly after the birth of Paul, 1751, their youngest known son. A Henry King of R. I. is thought to be another son of Maglon¹ King. W. W.

Coddington-Coddington

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Capt. James Coddington of Braintree and Taunton "died before 1753 in New York State." He married Deborah Thayer³ of Braintree, born Oct. 14, 1691. (Nathaniel², Richard¹.) Was he a son of John and Hannah (Gardner) Coddington of Braintree? This John died there June 1, 1680. The Gardner family lived in Newport where I believe this Hannah had a brother James living.

The Braintree vital records give the marriage of a "widow Anne Coddington of Newport" to Rev. Samuel Niel of Braintree, Nov. 22, _____. Was she the mother of Capt. James Coddington (ton)? Who was she? Capt. Coddington's descendants have always claimed descent from William Coddington the first governor of the Rhode Island plantation, whose capital was at Newport, Gov. John Coggeshall being the first governor of the Providence plantation. Major Nathaniel Coddington² born 1653, married Susanna, a granddaughter of William and Anne Hutchinson. Anne was a nickname for both Hannah and Susanna. Who was the "widow Anne" and was she the mother of Capt. James Coddington? W. W.

Pierce

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

I am attempting to prove that Pelatiah Pierce who came to the Wyoming Valley, Penn., shortly after its first settlement was a younger son of Pelatiah Pierce, who married Ann Cadwell, of Hartford, 1758. (Edward⁸, Edward², Edward¹.) I have the Cadwell ancestry but would like to trace the elder Pelatiah Pierce to the emigrant. Who was Pelatiah Pierce of Penn., and who was his wife? Can "E. P. J." give this?

I wish to know if the Elizabeth_____, who married Lieut. James Greene of North Kingston, R. I., was a Greene, and if so, who were her parents? Were they from Malden, Mass.? There were several of the name there at an early period. Lieut. James Green (2) married Ann_____, 1727, and died at North Kingston, 1728. Can "F. P. J." answer this?

The Virginia Branch of the Goggin Family

[Contributed to Genealogy.]

(1) Stephen Goggin, Sr., came to the eastern shore of Virginia from Queens County, Ireland, in 1742. He afterwards removed, with his family, to either Campbell or Bedford county. He was a Protestant, an Episcopalian, and lay reader in his church.

(2) Stephen Goggin, Sr., had a number of children, among others, Stephen Goggin, Jr., who married Rachel Moorman, December 21, 1773; John Goggin, who married Lucy Branch, September _____, 1777. (John Goggin, was the John Goggin who was lieutenant in the Continental army.)

(3) Stephen Goggin, Jr., by his wife, Rachel Moorman, had eight children, as follows: Pamelia Goggin, who married Samuel Clemens of Campbell county, October 27, 1797; Polly Goggin, who married Alexander Gill; Nancy Goggin, who married Obediah Tate; William Goggin, who married Pamelia Tate; Elizabeth Goggin, who married Samuel Fulkes, and afterwards, John B. Witt; Thomas Goggin, who married Polly Walden; Pleasant Moorman Goggin, who married Mary Otey Leftwich; Stephen Goggin, who married Janette Robertson.

(4) John Clemens, the son of Samuel Clemens and Pamelia Goggin, was the father of Mark Twain.

(5) Pleasant Moorman Goggin was born January 10, 1777, died February 3, 1831. He was known as Col. Goggin, he having been colonel of one of the militia organizations. He was also a member of the Virginia legislature. Mary Otey Leftwich, his wife, born March 21, 1789, died February 24, 1854. Mary Otey Leftwich was the daughter of the Rev. Wm. Leftwich (known as "Black-head Leftwich") and Frances, his wife, who was the only daughter of Col. John Otey. The Rev. Wm. Leftwich's father was Col. Wm. Leftwich, and his father, Augustine Leftwich.

(6) The children of Pleasant Moorman and Mary Otey Leftwich, his wife, were William Leftwich Goggin, who married, first, Mary C. Cook; second, Elizabeth Cook; Lucian Bonaparte Goggin, born July 11, 1810, married Ann Jane Curtis; Emily Goggin, born February 13, 1812, married Edwin Matthews; Stephen Goggin, born November 28, 1813, died unmarried; John O. (8) William Leftwich Goggin, by his second wife, had Mary Charlotte, born _____, 1841, died November 28, 1841, unmarried; Betty Amosette Summers Goggin, born January 9, 1845, died February 20, 1868; Laura Virginia, born February 1, 1847, died April 12, 1848; William Leftwich, born June 8, 1849, now lives in Chicago, unmarried; Samuel Cook Goggin, born May 6, 1851, married Lizzie Dibrell Moon and lives at Rustbuerg, Virginia, and is clerk of the court; John Pleasant Goggin, born January 16, 1853; Martha Caroline, born July 25, 1854, married James Bolling Saunders; James Monroe Goggin, born March 14, 1857, died June 21, 1860; Frances Octavia Goggin, born March 17, 1859, married William Rufus Thomas and now lives in Bedford county; Mary Isabelle Goggin, born November 10, 1860, married Samuel McCorkle Johnston, died December 1, 1890; Charles Chesterfield Otey Goggin, born April 6, 1864, died May 29, 1886.

(9) Hon. William L. Goggin, eldest son of Col. Pleasant Moorman Goggin, and Mary Leftwich, his wife, died January 3, 1870. He was born in Bedford county, received an academic education, studied law in Winchester; was admitted to the bar in 1828. In 1836, he was a member of the legislature of Virginia and in 1837 declined re-election. In 1839, was elected to congress and re-elected in 1841, 1843 and 1847, being chairman of the committee on post offices and post roads. He was afterwards appointed one of the visitors for the United States Military Academy at West Point under the Filmore administration. In 1859 he was the unsuccessful Whig candidate for governor of Virginia, Governor Letcher, the war governor, having defeated him by a very narrow majority.

He served in the Confederate army and after the close of the war practiced law at Liberty, now Bedford City, until his death.

(10) Lucian Bonaparte Goggin, the son of Pleasant N. and Mary Otey Goggin, known as Colonel L. B. Goggin, went to Mason county, Kentucky, in 1829, when only 19 years of age. He married a daughter of George Curtis, Esq. He was a Union man. He was a member of the lower house of the Kentucky legislature and afterwards a member of the state senate. He was sheriff of Mason county for ten years, and one of the most influential men in that section.

(11) John O. L. Goggin, son of Pleasant M. and Mary Otey Leftwich, was a lawyer, practicing his profession to the time of his death at Lynchburg, Virginia, with great distinction.

(12) James Monroe Goggin, though by profession a lawyer, engaged in practice but for a short time, when he was sent to California as special agent of the post office department in the early fifties, where he represented the government and established the post offices and post roads in northern California and southern Oregon. On his return, he engaged in the wholesale grocery and cotton commission business under the firm name of Goggin, Traytor & Holt, at Memphis, Tenn. At the beginning of the war, he went back to Virginia, received a major's commission, organized a battalion of infantry, which was afterwards merged into the 32nd Virginia. Was adjutant general in McLaws' division of Longstreet's corps. (See official record, War of Rebellion, series 1, volume 31, part 1.) In 1864, he was placed in command of Connor's, formerly Kershaw's brigade and commanded that brigade at the battle of Cedar Creek. (See Gen. Gordon's Reminiscences, page 367.) Was appointed brigadier general December 4, 1864. At close of the war went to Texas and engaged in farming in Waller county; died in Austin, Texas, 1889, leaving sur-

(13) As stated above, the Goggins came to America from Queen's county, Ireland. It is said that the Goggin name was originally DeCogin, all the Goggins in Southern Ireland being descended from either Richard DeCogin, or Miles DeCogin (afterwards called Cogin, and Anglicized into Goggin). The De-Cogins went over to Ireland from England or Wales just after Fitz Stephen's and just before Strongbow's invasion. They were Anglo-Normans. (See Annals of the Kingdom of Ireland, by the four masters, translation by John O'Donavan, second edition, volume 3, pages 45, 61, 275, 340, 383, 395, 498, 511. Also see McGeoghegan's History of Ireland.) A statement published by John Boyle O'Reilley was to the effect that the name Goggin was originally McGeoghegan or McGeoghegain. This is evidently a mistake. The McGeoghegans belong to the ancient Irish family of that name, descended from the Hy'Neils, whereas, the Goggans and Goggins are of Anglo-Norman origin. Col. G.

Hamilton-Clark

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

In the April GENEALOGY, S. M. H asks for some information concerning Mercy Clark who was supposed to have married Timothy White in or about 1772. In this connection the following may be of interest.

Abel Hamilton, son of Benjaminine and Experience (Walker) Hamilton was born at Berwick, Maine and baptized in that town in March 1759. The exact date of his birth is unknown. He married a Mercy Clark and had eleven children by her. Can give no further information concerning Mercy Clark but the following Clarks appear to be connected in some way. Silas Fuller, the son of Abiel and Elanor (Henry) Fuller, married Alinda Clark of Columbia, Ct., in 1797. Henry C. Fuller, brother of Silas married Dorothy Clark on April 6, 1809. It is possible that these two girls were sisters but is not proven. Both Fullers were raised at Lebanon, Ct. Edwin Fuller, son of Rev. Stephen Fuller and Phebe Thurston, at Vershire, Vt., married Wealthy Clark and by her had seven children. We also find the name of Clark carried forward, as a family name evidently, in the son, Zeviah Clark, who was born July 31st, 1836 of Dr. Warren Fuller who was the son of the above Silas Fuller.—Carl H. Fuller.

Cooley

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

(Answer.) Benjamin Cooley was one of the first settlers of Springfield, Mass., and came there about 1644. These first settlers came mostly from Roxbury, Mass. He lived in that section of Springfield called Longmeadow and was one of the most prominent men in the town. He served as selectman for eighteen years, a longer term of service than any other enjoyed. He sat in the first seat of the meeting house where the settlers were seated by a committee according to social position, and his descendants were long among the wealthiest and most prominent families in the place. Most of the Cooleys in the United States are descended from him though there is another branch of Cooleys descended from a different family in New York state.

His wife was Sarah Tremaine. Date of birth of both unknown but he died Aug. 17th, 1684. She died Aug. 23rd, 1684.

Their children were as follows:

Bethiah, born Sept. 16th, 1644, married Henry Chapin, son of Dea. Samuel Chapin. Obadiah, born Jan. 27th, 1647, married Rebecca Williams. Eliakim, born Jan. 8th, 1649, married Hannah Tibbals. Daniel, born May, 1651, married Elizabeth Wolcott. Sarah, born Feb. 27th, 1654, married Jonathan Morgan. Benjamin, born Sept. 1st, 1656, married Abigail Bagg. Mary, born June 22 or 24th, 1659, married Thomas Terry. Joseph, born Mar. 6th 1662 (?) married Mary Griswold.

The early records spell the name variously, Coole, Cooley, and Coley. The family seem to have sprung from the Cooles of Brabant as there is heraldic mention of such a family. L. M. H.

Claims to Old Peerages

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

The British House of Lords has ordered the Committee of Privileges to lay before the King its reports on the claims of Viscount Gage and Sir Robert Bourchier Sherard Wrey to the baronies of Dynaunt, Martin, and Fitzwaryn.

With respect to the barony of Fitzwaryn, their lordships report that it is an ancient barony in fee, and Sir William Bourchier Wrey was summoned to Parliament as a peer of the realm in 33, Henry VI. (1455) as Lord Fitzwaryn, and sat as such in his own right, and was entitled to a barony by writ descendible to the heirs general of his body. On the death of Edward, fourth Earl of Bath and Lord Fitzwaryn, in 1637, the barony fell into abeyance between his three daughters, Lady Elizabeth (who died without issue), Lady Dorothy and Lady Anne.

The co-heirs of Lady Dorothy are now (a) Viscount Gage, (b) Colonel Hugo Montgomery-Campbell, (c) the heir or heirs, if any, of Mary Mackworth (who was living unmarried in 1681), and the sole heir of Lady Anne is Reginald Joseph Weld. The committee further report that the barony of Fitzwaryn is in abeyance and at his Majesty's disposal.

As to the barony of Martin (claimed by Viscount Gage), the committee report that it is an ancient barony in fee, and that William Martin was summoned to Parliament as a peer of the realm by writ 23 Edward I. (1295), and sat in Parliament, and was entitled to a barony by writ descendible to the heirs general of his body. Their lordships find that the co-heirs are Henry Rainald (Viscount Gage), Colonel Hugo Montgomery-Campbell, and Reginald Joseph Weld. Also that the barony of Martin is in abeyance and at his Majesty's disposal.

With respect to the barony of Dynaunt (also claimed by Viscount Gage), their lordships report that no evidence has been produced of the existence or descent of the alleged barony.

The committee will proceed to hear the part heard Strabolgi claim, and also the claims to the Saint John barony.

Sir Sidney Smith

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Can any reader of GENEALOGY give information of a descendant (son I think) of Sir Sidney Smith, who came to Virginia about 1716. The tradition is that one Thomas Smith, gentleman, married Cassandra, an Indian maiden, rescued by Washington at Braddock's defeat. This Thomas Smith was of King George county, Virginia. The crest of this family is a sword and pen crossed. The motto of the coat of arms is "Mea spes est in Deo." Any information will be appreciated.

Witter-Park

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Witter-Park. After spending some time looking over the Park Genealogies and some correspondence with the author of these, I have been unable to trace surely one Lucy Parke who married Nov. 18, 1756 at Preston, Ct., Elijah Witter, son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Gore) Witter. He was born Sept. 15, 1734, and so was 22 when married. The record of an elderly woman stated years ago that this Lucy was the daughter of John Park of Preston. The only one found there of right age was the John who married Jerusha Starkweather, and their children are listed there up to Jerusha, born Jan. 12, 1738/9, but that would not preclude their having Lucy, born in 1840, who would be 16 in 1756, not an early age in those days. In fact one of my great grandmothers was married before she was 15. From this old lady we learned that three children were born to Lucy Parke Witter: Sarah, born Dec. 12, 1757, married 1777, Elisha Stewart, born at Stonington, Ct., June 29, 1757, son of William (2) Stewart or Steward and wife Elizabeth Stevens, daughter of Henry (2) Stephens and Elizabeth Fellows. The next child was born Aug. 4, 1760, and bore the odd name, Zipporah; the son born Jan. 11, 1763, was named Park Witter, and is undoubtedly the same one given in the Stephens Genealogy as marrying Lucy Stephens of Stonington. Lucy was the daughter of Jared and Lucy (Stewart) Stevens, and Lucy was the sister of Elisha Stewart, who had married Sarah Witter. Lucy Stewart was 14 years older than Elisha, and was married when he was only two years old, marrying her own first cousin, Jared Stevens. So these families are much intermarried, as are the Coates and Wilcox families with this Stevens family of Stonington—the first of the name there, and un-traced before William Steward (1) joins the church as an adult in 1711, and marries there May 5, 1713, Sarah Church—whose ancestry is given in a manuscript history of the Stewart's, as "Sister of Colonel Benjamin Church;" she died 1745. It would seem more likely that she was a daughter or granddaughter of Col. Benjamin Church, but having such an old record indicates relationship to that Church family, which had members living close to Stonington, Ct. The names of her children were: William, Nathan, Oliver, Phineas, Lemuel, Sarah, Content, Eliphilet, and again Lemuel, as the older one died young. As most of these names appear again in family of William, Jr., they may aid in tracing the Stewart or Church lines. Content Stewart, born Dec. 24, 1727, married Robert Park (5), baptized July 30, 1721.

John Park of Stonington bought land in Preston April 20, 1730. Jan. 11, 1733 John Park of Groton, sells land in Preston. May 15, 1770 he buys land in Preston, and is then of Groton, so probably in Groton may be found more about him and his family. Elijah Witter of Preston sells land in Preston, April 7, 1760, and does not appear again on the land records. In list of people married by Samuel Mott, J. P. at Preston "Elijah Witter and Elizabeth Story both of Preston, May 29, 1770." So it is likely that Lucy Park died before then. One indication that Lucy Parke belonged to John and Jerusha (Starkweather) Park is that Zipporah is a name found in that family. Jerusha had a sister Zipporah; her brother Daniel has a daughter Zipporah. Hope some one will finish this record for me soon. The John Park who married Jerusha Starkweather, was son of William and Hannah (Frink) Park; was born April 5, 1701; grandson of Thomas (2), Robert (1). William resided at Stonington, Groton and Preston. More can be given on his ancestry.

Wilson-Hoyt

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

I am seeking the family of Mary Wilson, who married Lieut. David Hoyt, at Hatfield, 1689. He was born April 22, 1651, at Windsor, Conn. None of the Wilsons of Windsor appear to have had a Mary that early, and the only Mary Wilson I can find of suitable age was the one born Nov. 21, 1652, to Henry and Mary (Metcalf) Wilson, of Dedham, (unless Mary Wilson Hoyt was a widow). The two oldest daughters were named Mary and Sarah Hoyt, Mary Wilson of Dedham had a grandmother Sarah. What became of this Mary Wilson?

Chapman-Cooke

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

John Chapman of Salem, first appears on record there Dec. 7, 1694, when he married first a widow Hanna (Bechet) daughter of William and Margaret of Lynn, and widow of Isaac Stearns, who died before 1692, and came from Watertown. She died Aug. 8, 1700, Salem. He secondly married Feb. 13, 1701 at Salem, Elizabeth Cook, born April 7, 1676, daughter of John Cooke² and Mary (Buxton)² (Anthony)¹. Henry Cooke the emigrant of Salem was born 1615 in Yorkshire and married June 1639 at Plymouth, Mass., to Judith, daughter of Henry Birdsall. Was Henry a son of Francis Cooke by a former wife who died in England shortly after his birth, as has been thought by some people? John Chapman died in Salem, Dec., 1644 Elizabeth died there 1758.

Children by the first marriage.

1. Hannah, born Aug. 14, 1695, died Nov. 10, 1713.

2. Stephen, born Sept. 18, 1697, married Hannah Devereux, May 9, 1727.

Children by the second marriage.

3. John, born May 15, 1702, married Hannah Hayward, Dec. 29, 1725.

4. Joseph, born Dec. 8, 1703, married Sarah _____.

5. Elizabeth, born Dec. 15, 1705, died young.

6. Daniel, born Nov. 8, 1707, died Dec. 31, 1713.

7. Isaac, born Aug. 27, 1710, married Hannah Deane⁴, Dec. 6, 1733, (George³, John², George¹).

8. Samuel, born Nov. 2, 1712, married Hannah Davis, March 1737.

9. Hannah, born Dec. 29, 1714, married David Gillingham, Oct. 3, 1734.

10. Elizabeth, born Nov. 22, 1717.

11. Benjamin, born Sept. 28, 1719.

Rhoades

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Henry Rhoades of Lynn, Mass., is believed to have come from Rode, Cheshire, England. He was born 1608, and died at Lynn, 1703. He married Elizabeth _____ (who was she?) He was a brother of Zachary Rhoades of Providence, R. I. The latter was born 1603, and married Joanna Arnold. Henry Rhoades was a founder of Lynn. His sons were Samuel, Joseph and Jacob. Samuel Rhoades was born Feb. 1642. He died 1718 at Lynn, and married Jan. 16, 1684, Abigail Coates³, daughter of Robert² and Jane (Sumner) Coates (Thomas¹). Is anything known of the family of Henry and Elizabeth Rhoades in England?

In the old Sunbury cemetery, Sunbury, Penn., are the graves of George Prince and his wife Mary. George Prince, died Jan. 25, 1874, aged 82 years. Mary, his wife, died Jan. 9, 1872, aged 80 years. Mr. Prince was prominent in Masonic lodge affairs and claimed to be an illegitimate son of King George IV., of Great Britain. According to his tomb, he was born in 1792. King George married (1) a Mrs. Fitzherbert, in 1784, and (2) his cousin Caroline in 1795, from whom he was later divorced.

Belden-Elderkin

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

The Belden Genealogy and Hinman's Puritan Settlers of Conn., both give Samuel² and Mary (_____) as the parents of the Samuel³ who was born at Wethersfield. Stile's Hist. of Wethersfield assigns him instead to John Belden² and Lydia (Standish). This couple also had a Samuel whom the first two authorities say was born Jan. 3, 1665. I would like correct data as to the parents of the Samuel Belden³ who married Hannah Elderkin, Jan. 14, 1685. Were her parents John Elderkin¹ and Elizabeth (Drake) Gaylord. The latter couple were married March 1, 1660, and Hannah Elderkin seems to have been born after that date. I would also like the correct dates of birth of Samuel Belden³ and Hannah (Elderkin). He died at Wethersfield, Dec. 27, 1733. (ae—_____)? She died there Jan. 20, 1742, (ae_____)?. Who was Mary _____, who married Samuel Belden²? Who was Lydia (Standish) who married John Belden²? That she was not a daughter of Thomas¹ of Wethersfield seems probable from his will. Any other vital dates or information on this topic greatly desired.

TOMBS IN OLD TRINITY.

Early Churcher Burials

The tombstones in the churchyard of Old Trinity at Wall Street and Broadway, New York City, are mostly obliterated. This illustration was made over fifty years ago, thus preserving the inscription long since destroyed by time and weather. Members of the Churcher or Churchier families will find something of interest here.

Sevier

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

General John Sevier was married first in 1761-2 to Sarah Hawkins, the daughter of Governor Hawkins. By her he had ten children. One was Valentine, born 1775 and married 1795. To whom? One tradition is that she was Miss Arnot, but want full proofs on this, with any dates procurable on them and their son John Sevier, born 1796; died June, 1863. He married first _____? Second April 12, 1840 Mary Meyers, died March 10, 1876.

General Sevier was the hero of thirty battles during the Revolutionary War, and his brother, Captain Valentine Sevier served under him at battle of King's Mountain. By his second wife, Catherine Sherrill he had eight children. I have list of several of these, but not the date of birth of any. Can give names of some whom they marred, but not all, so shall be glad to have full data on foregoing. He was born September 23, 1745; died September 24, 1815. A. R. H.

Paul-Richardson-Richmond

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

The author of a recent English publication upon American families says that William Paul of Taunton, who died 1704 and was born 1624 in Scotland, married Mary Richardson, daughter of John. This is incorrect, since the will of Col. John Richmond of Taunton reveals the fact that Mrs. Paul was his daughter. Was this William Paul a son of another William Paul of Taunton, 1638, who returned to York county, England? Did he marry a Mary Richardson, daughter of John Richardson of Scotland?

Reynolds-Dickinson

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

At North Kingstown, R. I., in February, 1758, there were married Elisha Reynolds, son of John and Hannah—? Reynolds and Mary Dickinson, daughter of John and Mary Dickinson. They had son Elisha, born August, 1763, who served in the Revolutionary War, but name of his first wife has never been learned. A descendant said she had heard it was "Miss Gates", but the proofs on this have never been found. Elisha was living at Alburgh, Vermont, in 1790, and was married before then. His son Thomas, born about 1795 married Elsie Bell, the daughter of William and Lizzie (Deuell) Bell. They had a large family, and one son named Michael would indicate that Lizzie was daughter of Michael Duell, who lived at Alburgh in 1790. Another son was called Sewell or Soule Bell, and we believe that there is relationship to the Mayflower Soule's, for we have heard that an old Bible in Vermont has the line back to the Mayflower. Any aid on above will be appreciated.

Willard Family

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

The History of Harvard, Mass., page 574, is in error as to the family of Thomas Willard, showing children by his second wife by whom he had none. Her name was given as Sarah Fletcher. It should read: Sarah (Brewer) Fletcher, widow, and they were married February 25, 1786. Her first husband, Timothy Fletcher, died in May, 1779, and the first wife of Thomas Willard, Sarah Gibson, died May 22, 1779. Harvard records and Bailey's Early "Massachusetts Marriages" both show that Thomas Willard, Jr., and Sarah Farwell were married May 3, 1768. They were undoubtedly the parents of the five children credited to his father, as having been born between 1768 and 1778. See U. S. Census 1790, page 222.

PAST AND PRESENT

GENEALOGY begets ancestral gossip, and I purpose in this column to chatter aimlessly but nevertheless agreeably and instructively, upon things, persons, places and what-not genealogically. It is a short journey, after all is said and done, from Plymouth Rock to Somerset Street, and from the martyrs of yesterday to the ancestral chart makers of today.

* * *

Only a few hours ago I found the marriage record of America's first "grafter" and money grubber, the renowned Captain William Kidd, he of buried gold renown. Captain Kidd was married in New York City, 16 May, 1691, to Sarah Oort. That is the way she spelled her name.

* * *

In our nomenclature we frequently find a Beet, an Onion, a Root or a Corn. Once in a life time we strike at the head of a Cabbage. In my own line there comes to the surface a Turnipseed. But a moment ago I was called upon to record the marriage of Rhoda Bagger, and what is worse she was united to a Cook.

* * *

"Don't shoot this old gray head," she said. Who said? Why Barbara Frietchie. In Frederick County, Maryland, on February 2, 1793, William Carey was wedlocked to the said Barbara Frietchie. Whether she was the only, original Barbara it matters little.

* * *

After I had driven fourteen miles over the mountain trails, last summer, to a Virginia County seat, I met the white-haired county clerk. "Good Lord, man," he said, "I've been yere in this office forty-two years, and yer the second pursohn that's been yere in all that time to look at them records."

* * *

What things there are, my dears, in the wills men make. One Thomas Brigham, of England, 1542, bequeathed to his son Ralph, "my chamlett gowne, my long night gowne, both my chamlett jackets and a paire of virginals."

* * *

Mistress Katherine Roundell in her will dated 1522, wrote in a humorous vein. "I give to my son Thomas, half a mare, half a saddle and half a cart wheel." Which would be slow going for Thomas.

* * *

Who is the most famous Englishman of history? Not the Kings, nor the Sir Sydneys, nor the Chaucers, but good old yellow-journal, news-maker Guy Fawkes. His name comes readily and he lives on after all others are forgotten.

* * *

In his will dated December 6, 1773, Rev. Noah Hobart of Fairfield, Conn., made this provision: "Second, I give to my loving wife all she brought with her, also ye use of my house as long as she has a mind to stay there."

Ayres-Osborn

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Recently I purchased a copy of the old Ayres' work, on the descendants of Captain John Ayres of Brookfield, Mass. In it was some of the data sought, but much lacking. He had a son Samuel, who married Abigail Fellows, and they had a son Samuel, who married Martha Bell January 21, 1742, and had ten children—as we found this the popular number for his father and his descendants, for Asa Ayres, his son, born June 5, 1761, married Mary Wait and had ten children also. One son bore the odd name Buenos Ayres—the youngest, who was but ten when his father moved to Ohio and bought land in Geauga co.; Buenos married September 1, 1833, Sarah Osborn, daughter of Ransom and Sarah (Hurd) Osborn, who was born at Oxford, New Haven co., Conn., September 2, 1816. She was of English descent, her ancestors having resided in New England many generations—so says an old letter. Can any one give the Osborn and Hurd lines down to Sarah? Or the Bell and Wait lines? Did Asa Ayres serve in the Revolutionary War from Massachusetts? He seems to have lived at Chester, Hamden county, Mass., until after 1810. His father lived at Granby, was drowned November 15, 1768, aged 52. His wife died October 25, 1765, aged 41. Do not know when Asa and his wife died nor age at death. Shall be glad to give more data to ones interested in these lines.

Payne-Leach-Brewster

[Contributed to GENEALOGY]

As yet, proofs are lacking on the parents of Stephen Payne, who had son Ebenezer Leach Payne, who served in the Revolutionary War, taking his father's place when only sixteen. Recently from old records we procured description of this Ebenezer L. Payne, dated Northampton, September 14, 1780, of men detached from Col. Israel Chapin's 2nd Hampshire Co. for the term of three months. "Age 17 years: stature 5 feet and 3 inches. Complexion light", etc. His father, Stephen Payne mustered between January 20, 1777 and June 1, 1778 by Trumen Wheler, Master Muster for Berkshire co., Capt. Watkins' Company: term three years or during the war. Reported received state bounty. Where can one get data on those who received state bounty?

Another Stephen Payne lived at Lebanon, Conn., at or near same time; this Stephen was married there, September 23, 1756, to Rebecca Bushnell, and one of these served in the French and Indian wars with Capt. Ebenezer Leach, which might account for the name of his son. Or it may prove that this Stephen was son of Stephen and Sarah Leach, who were married at Pomfret, Conn., 1727, and had there two children, Judith and Noah. I found lately in the Comstock Genealogy, page 275: "Abel (5) Comstock (Daniel 4) born 1721, died 1814, Cooperstown, N. Y. He married September 17, 1747, Judith Pain, at Kent, Conn. She was born 1728, and died December 19, 1803, at Litchfield, Conn. In August, 1776, Abel Comstock was a private in Captain Carter's Co." So from this we find that Stephen, whose wife was Sarah Leach moved to Kent, sometime in 1730-40, as no record is found at Pomfret after about 1730.

One Stephen Paine married Jemima Morgan, and on the Norwich records I found only this: "Roger, ye son of Stephen Paine and his wife Jemima was born the 25th day of July, 1760". They were married in 1754. It is probable that the Stephen Paine who married Rebecca Bushnell is the one born to Benjamin and Mary Brewster Paine, June 26, 1735, for he would be just past 21, while the one who married in 1754 would be only 19. Would be very grateful for any aid on this problem, so that descendants could join Mayflower Descendants. Kingsley's Records at Lebanon—he was for many years the Town Clerk—says this Stephen born to Benj. is the one who married Rebecca Bushnell. Would like to know when Stephen died at Partridgfield, Mass., and his age at death; this would prove whose son he was, most likely. Shall appreciate any clues. A. R. H.

PAST AND PRESENT

Thomas Pigge of Dedham, Mass., died in 1660. In his will dated October 30, the name is written Pig, Pigg, Pigge and Pidge. "A rose by any other name," etcetera.

* * *

The last survivor of the Battle of Concord, April 19, 1775, was Amos Lincoln Baker, who died July 16, 1850, in Boston. At a Concord celebration the same year, he signed a statement that he participated in the battle seventy-five years before.

* * *

The first white child born in America was Virginia Dare, daughter of Annanias and Eleanor Dare. She was born August 18, 1597, in Roanoke, North Carolina.
Her parents were of the expedition sent out by Sir Walter Raleigh in that year.

* * *

'Love and wedlock knoweth neither age, condition, color, weather or previous condition of servitude. Hence, I am never surprised at what one may discover in the course of one's researches. In Baltimore, Maryland, on May 8, 1801, Mr.

M. H. Duval of Prince George County,
aged 17, was married to Mrs. Allen, aged 50, widow of the late Zachariah
Allen of that place. The marriage notice concludes with these lines:

"A wise and happy change of life,
To get at once a mother and a wife."

* * *

And this from the mother of states:
"Married, in New Kent County, Virginia,
February 27, 1802, Mr. Michael Sherman, aged 97, to the amiable and accomplished Miss Eliza Poindexter, aged 14."
Old enough to be her great, great grandfather. Where are May and December now?

* * *

Yet age is really of no account in the love-game. On January 23, 1764, Miss Mary Eldrington, "an old virgin," died in Elizabethtown, New Jersey, in the 109th year of her age. She was of an ancient family in Northumberland, England. The account further states: "Notwithstanding her great age, she was very desirous of getting a husband before she died, and when she had reached her 107th year, nothing could offend her so highly as to tell her she was too old to be married."

* * *

One of the early Otis emigrants was Robert, who came from Ireland in 1720, and settled at the mouth of the Connecticut river. The first arrival, John of Massachusetts, spelled his name Ottis,
and on the original records of Hingham,
the name is found as Otis, Otys, Ottis,
Otes, Oates, Oattis and Oatis.

* * *

John Foster was a mathematician and printer in Dorchester, Mass. He died September 9, 1681, aged 33. On his tombstone is the inscription

"Skill was his Cash."

First, my will and desire is that all my just debts be paid in order to enable my executors hereinafter named to accomplish so desirable an end do ento upon and sell all my estate, both real and personal, or of whatever kind may consist (not here mention) dowered at such times and upon such terms that they may think most advantageous to my estate.

Second, My will and desire is that my executors do convey to Jacob Smith, by deed the land whereon he lives to that part running from a corner pine on Robert Gordon's line along a line of marked trees to a corner of poplar and timber or old mill pond, branch thence to the poplar to William Young line, so as to include the little meadow.

Third, My will and desire is that my executors do convey by deed to (my brother-in-laws) John Hawkins, Lyddall Bacon Bowles and my brother Jacob Smith, one-fourth part to each of them, two acres of land in the City of Richmond, Virginia, which was purchased of Jesse Smith by myself, John Hawkins, Lyddall Bacon Bowles and Jacob Smith, the said deed having been made to me by the said Jesse Smith, so soon as each of them shall complete the third and last payment for the same.

Fourth, I give and bequeath to my sister, Nancy Smith, fifteen hundred dollars, to be paid to her by my executors as soon as the sale can be made of my estate by them to her and her heirs forever.

Fifth, I lend to my mother, Elizabeth Burton Smith, during her life time, my negro woman, Lenora and her child Moses, together with her future increase, and at her death give and bequeath them to my sister, Nancy Smith, to her and her heirs forever.

Sixth, My will and desire that my mother and Aunt Lucy Price (she was Lucy Burton) and my sister, Nancy Smith shall have the use of the plantation whereon they now live which is owned by myself and brother, Jacob Smith, also two small pieces of land I bought of Thomas Buller and Jones Tyler, so long as they live or marry, and at the death or marriage of all of them, I give and bequeath the same land to my brother Jacob Smith and brother-in-law Lyddal Bacon Bowles to them and their heirs forever.

Seventh, My will and desire is that the remaining part of my estate is to be divided in the following manner. One fifth part between all the children of my sister Mary Smith King, which she has or may have as well as those by her first husband, John Bacon Ryall, deceased, as those by her present husband, George King.

One fifth part between all the children of my sister Lucy Smith Hawkins (dead). One fifth part between all the children of my brother Jacob Smith which he has or may have.

One fifth part between all the children of my sister Elizabeth Smith Bowles, which she has or may have; the remaining one-fifth to my sister Nancy Smith.

Eighth, My will and desire is, if either of the children of my sister Mary King, or those left by my sister Lucy Hawkins, should claim any part of the land which their mother heired as one of the heirs of my father, Obadiah Smith, deceased, which I have purchased, that they shall not have any part of my estate before devised.

I give and bequeath to my brother, Jacob Smith, all the interest I have in the wagons, mules, which we have held in conjunction and release him from all accounts, whether by note or open account, upon his paying to my mother, Elizabeth

Sumner Family

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

It would appear that "W. W.," the writer of the note and query on the Sumner family in the January issue, was either misquoted or misinformed. Governor Increase Sumner, not having been born until 1746 could not well be the son of George (2) who died in 1715. As a matter of fact he was the grandson of George and son of Edward (3). As to the question whether William was the only son of Roger of Bicester, there is no other son mentioned in the will of Roger, who devotes considerable space to William and his upbringing and except for his wife he makes no provision for any other relatives except the children of his brother William. I do not think there has been any evidence produced to connect Thomas Sumner of Rowley in 1643 with this family but there were families of the name in County Essex and County Devon who from the similarity of names would seem to have been connected as has been pointed out by Mr. Henry Fitz Waters in his "Gleanings in England." Is it with intention that the correspondent alters the name of the second husband of Joane Franklin from Marcus, as he is usually known, to Morris?

Scotch-Irish Records

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

In tracing my Scotch-Irish ancestry, prior to the coming to America, I made a discovery that should be brought to the notice of Historical Societies. Pennsylvania was the early home of many of those arriving from the North of Ireland. I find that those who can trace their genealogies beyond this country are singularly few. It was by much application that I was able to find the slightest clue to my foreign ancestry. Having found it I am unwilling that a discovery made should remain unpublished.

In Larne, County Antrim, Ireland, lives a Rev. J. Kennedy, who has charge of a church there dating back to about 1700, and probably much farther. In the possession of this Rev. Kennedy are two old registers of marriages, baptisms, etc., which concern the immigrants to America who came so numerously from 1730 to 1750. My understanding is that these registers are in bad order and have never had any publication. That the information they contain should be preserved, seems of that importance, that I think it a duty to direct the attention of a historical society, which has an interest in such matters, to the fact. This is especially true of Pennsylvania. The heart of the immigration of Scotch-Irish to Pennsylvania and Virginia lies in the vicinity of Larne.

Perhaps steps to obtain copies of these registers may result from this information.

PAST AND PRESENT

The earliest applications of the principles of genealogy were made by the law, so it is to that science that we are indebted for the meaning of most of the terms now in use. The law defines an ancestor as one from whom an heir inherits property or as one prior to another in the right to inherit property.

* * *

Such an ancestor may or may not be of the same line of descent. A son inheriting property is by law the heir of his ancestor and by descent the descendant of his ancestor. But if the position be reversed and the father inherit money from his son he is the heir of his ancestor according to the law, and by descent he is the ancestor of his descendant and the latter is an ancestor of his own ancestor.

* * *

In the days when property rights were vested solely in men, and when women had little share in the distribution of wealth, the law recognized only the male issue, and, therefore, interested itself only in the tracing of the male line of descent.

* * *

But the evolution of public opinion has modified this condition so that the rights of property now, especially in the United States, are practically the same for men and women. Therefore, modern genealogy recognizes the importance of the female line of descent, and it has been scientifically established that the hereditary influence of the female ancestors upon posterity is fully equal to that of the male.

* * *

An English sculptor was ordered to engrave on a tombstone the following words: "She was a crown to her husband." The stone, being small, he engraved upon it: "She was 5s to her husband."

* * *

Up to the time of the Revolution all the early settlers of Augusta Co., Va., were of the Scotch-Irish race. After that period the German element drifted southward from Pennsylvania.

* * *

It is not in country graveyards only that the English of the epitaphs is open to criticism. In the Old Granary burying ground in Boston, there is a stone with the following inscription:

Here lies interr'd the body of Capt. Nicholas Gardner, who was wounded by the enemy of which he died June 13, 1782, aged 33 years.

* * *

The first clergyman to preach in Tennessee was the Rev. Charles Cummings, who, in 1776, accompanied the troops of Colonel Christian against the Cherokees.

* * *

John McDowell, who was killed by Indians near the forks of the James River, Va., in 1742, had two sons, Samuel and James, and a daughter Martha, who married Col. George Moffett. W. M. C.

The Youngs Family

[Contributed to GENEALOGY]

Elizabeth Youngs, daughter of Samuel and Rebecca (Brown) Youngs, born at Stamford, Conn., April 19, 1749, and died at Darien, Conn., March 6, 1833. She was a descendant of the Rev. Samuel Youngs who settled in Long Island in 1620, and married another party of the same name (Youngs). It appears that the early church records, covering this marriage, were destroyed by fire, and while there has never been any question regarding the marriage, members of the Youngs' family are unable to place her husband. She married this—Youngs about 1767 and had issue Phebe Youngs, born about 1768. Want the full name of the Youngs she married, date of marriage and full date of the birth of the issue the said Phebe Youngs. C. A. B.

PAST AND PRESENT

Francis Gallons recommends the establishment of a new genealogy, in the collection of statistics of large and thriving families, in order to show respect to the parents of noteworthy children which such contribution of valuable assets to the national wealth richly deserves. This is a phase of genealogy which is beginning to command much attention, and the pedigree which can show a large descent of reputable middle class citizens is beginning to be valued quite as much as the one going back by a single line to titled nobility or royalty.

* * *

In most of the prominent modern societies based upon genealogical descent, the female line has equal standing with the male, despite the fact that it does not perpetuate the family name.

* * *

A New Jersey man says he knew Shakespeare when he lived in Pennsylvania, that his name was not Shakespeare but William Spear, and that after he moved to Michigan he caught the fever and ague, and was afterward nicknamed Shake-spear.

* * *

Somewhere in his "History" in Volume 5, I think, Bancroft says: "We will find the first voice publicly raised in America to dissolve all connection with Great Britain came, not from the Puritans of New England, or the Dutch of New York, or the planters of Virginia, but from the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians."

* * *

Upon the tomb of one Isaac Greentree, in Harrow, England, church-yard, is inscribed the following:

There is a time when these green trees
shall fall,
And Isaac Greentree rise above them
all.

* * *

The following is a copy of an epitaph in the church-yard at North Shields, England, which has been the subject of much laughter to many persons on account of its absurdity:

In memory of James Bell, of North Shields, who died 16th January, 1763, aged 42 years. Margaret, widow of the above said James Bell, died December 30, aged 49 years. She was wife after to Wm. Fenwick, of North Shields.

* * *

An old genealogist said the other day: "I have spent hours of toil looking for Dorothy Dudley's family name. I never shall find it, but I believe it will be found, and, in all probability, by some youngster who will stumble accidentally upon the very thing we old folks have been looking for for more than half a century."

* * *

In the records of the St. Paul Church in Philadelphia is the following unique and rather unsatisfactory marriage entry: October 21, 1792. "A poor, old man, and Mrs. Anderson (both pretty old, but no impediment)." W. M. C.

It is a scientific fact that the parent has only one-fourth average influence upon his child, and the grandparent only one-sixteenth. The man whose ancestor was a signer of the Declaration of Independence inherits only 1-256th of his patriotism. A Mayflower descendant has only 1-63536th part of Plymouth Rock blood.

The ancestral influences for evil are as great as those for good, and must be taken into account in the administration of perfect justice. It is claimed that when genealogical records are complete and give the weaknesses as well as the virtues of ancestors the moral as well as the physical condition of the nation will be greatly improved.

Ancestor worship is practiced in China to-day after the same methods which have prevailed for centuries. In every house an altar is erected sacred to the memory of the founders of the family, upon which incense is burned and before which prayers are offered. The anniversary of the death of an ancestor is kept as a sacred memorial day. The other altars in the house may be neglected, but never this one.

PAST AND PRESENT

A rich old maid died at Newton, New Hampshire, who left property to the value of nearly $40,000. She was all her lifetime getting ready to be married, and had stored up 182 sheets, 63 coverlets, 50 blankets, 27 beds, with 1120 pounds of feathers, 54 pillows, 43 handkerchiefs, while the whole amount of her wearing apparel did not exceed $10 in value.

Near Staunton, Va., in July, 1763, the Indians killed John Trimble and Alexander Crawford and his wife, according to the record in an old family Bible.

Every modern genealogist endeavors if possible to give the vital statistics—that is, the dates of the birth, marriage, and death of each person mentioned.

An Irishman being asked which was the oldest, he or his brother, replied: "I am eldest, but if my brother lives three years longer we shall be both of an age."

At Athens, Penn., Mr. James Bee married Miss Martha Ann Flower:

Well has this little busy Bee
Improved life's shining hour,
He gathers honey all the day
From one sweet chosen flower;
And from his hive, if heaven please,
He'll raise a little swarm of Bees.

An Irishman bought a family Bible, and taking it home, made his first entry in it thus:

"Patrick O'Donoghue—born September 20, 1869, aged twenty-three years."

It is estimated that this year there will be at least four times as many family records published as ten years ago. Each volume published not only gives the pedigree of the family interested directly, but also supplies many connecting threads helpful in the weaving of other family records.

The Japanese have methods of ancestor worship similar to those in use in China. They visit the graves of their ancestors regularly, decorating them with flowers and making devout prayers.

While genealogy should not encourage snobbery, and will not with any broad-minded persons, genealogists admit that there is a decided disposition on the part of most Americans to trace their ancestry back to aristocracy, despite their much vaunted democracy.

Many of the early settlers who were registered on the early colonial records as weavers, blacksmiths, tailors, and similar trades in reality were of much higher descent than some of those who simply wrote the word "gentleman" after their names. The old artisans' guilds of Europe and England were of anything but plebeian origin and had the closest relations with the highest orders of chivalry.

VOL. 5 November, 1915 No. 79

PAST AND PRESENT

The oldest and most exclusive organization in the United States which is based upon ancestry is the Society of the Cincinnati, founded in May, 1783, just before the disbandment of the Revolutionary army.

* * *

The first regiment raised in New York City for the Revolutionary war was composed of Hebrews. Consequently the descendants of these soldiers were among the earliest members of the newly developed patriotic societies based upon descent. Aside from this, the Jews have a genealogy of their own. Many orthodox members of the faith claim to trace their pedigrees all the way back to Abraham, but these records are disputed—especially by the members of the Reformed Jewish organizations. It is doubtful if positive proofs of any particular families go back beyond the destruction of the temple of Herod I.

* * *

An act of the Virginia Assembly, passed in 1705, in accordance with the old English law, prescribed the ducking stool as the punishment for women convicted as "Common Scolds."

* * *

At a christening, while a minister was making the certificate, he forgot the date, and happened to say:

"Let me see, this is the 30th."

"The thirtieth!" exclaimed the indignant mother; "indeed, it is only the eleventh!"

Fertig Family Notes

[Contributed to GENEALOGY.]

Peter Fertig, of Chester county, Pa., born 1765, died in 1842, aged 75. He was probably a son of John.

Adam Fertig, who lived in New Hanover, Pa., 1760-1790, was probably a son of Michael. His wife's name was Elizabeth —. They had a child baptized in the Lutheran Church at New Hanover, Pa., as follows:

(1) Anna Barbara, b. Aug. 6, 1770, bapt. Oct. 7, 1770.

John Adam Fertig, also of New Hanover, probably son of Michael, and brother of John, above, and his wife, Elizabeth —, had children as follows:

(1) Ann Margareth, b. Nov. 8, 1764, bapt. March 19, 1765.

(2) Catherine, b. April 5, 1768, bapt. June 19, 1768.

(3) Elizabeth, b. July 21, 1763, bapt. Aug. 14, 1763.

There was also a Johanes and Elizabeth Fertig in New Hanover, who had a son, John Peter, b. Sept. 2, 1766, bapt. Oct. 20, 1766, but this may be the same John Adam, as above.

Jacob Fertig, of Chester county, Pa., was born in 1778, and died in 1823, aged 45 years.

Abraham Fertig, of Vincent township, Chester county, Pa., was a witness on Jan. 1, 1805, to an agreement between Peter Brownback and Frederick Smith.

THE WILL OF MARTIN BURTON

In the name of God, amen: I, Martin Burton, of the parish and county of Henrico, state of Virginia, being weak of body, but of sound sense and memory, do make and ordain this to be my last will and testament in manner and form following, to wit:

Imprimis, I give and bequeath unto my son, William Burton, the land and plantation I purchased of William Smith, containing two hundred and fifty acres, be the same more or less, beginning at a Birch in horse swamp in Carters' line near the old plumb tree, thence running a straight line to a Sycamore tree in the branch near Hicks Spring, thence up the branch and line to the corner of the old field to William Jones' line, this being the dividing line between him and the plantation whereon I now live, to him and his heirs forever. I also give and bequeath to my son, William, six negroes, viz.: Susan, Agg, Isaac, Bobb, Jacob and Pegg, to him and his heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath to my son, John Burton, the tract of land whereon he now lives, it being part of the land I purchased of Miller and part of the land I purchased of Hughes, and bounded as follows: Beginning in Smith line, thence down Poplar branch, to where it empties into Meridith's branch, thence across Meridith's branch to Miller's Spring branch, thence up the Spring branch to three maples near the Spring, thence a straight line to a small Pine in Du Valk line near the corner, this being the dividing line between him and my son, Daniel Burton, containing four hundred and fifty acres, be the same more or less. I also give unto my said son, John Burton, six negroes, viz.: Sam, Judith, Sall, Jack, Aaron and Cate, to him and his heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my son, Daniel Burton, the remainder of the before mentioned tract of land I purchased of Hughes and Miller to him and his heirs forever. I also give unto my said son, Daniel Burton, six negroes, viz.: Amy, Jenny, Davy, Cate, George and Fannie, to him and his heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my son, Thomas Burton, the tract of land I purchased of John and William S. Smith (probably the S. is for Sterling) and known by the Meadow Plantation, to him and his heirs forever. I also give and bequeath unto my aforesaid son the plantation whereon I now live, reserving to my beloved wife the free use of the same during her widowhood and also my daughter, Lucy Burton, the privilege of living in the dwelling house during her single life. I also give and bequeath unto my said Thomas, six negroes, viz.: Daniel, Nancy, Ursley, Stephen, China and little Daniel, reserving to my beloved wife the use of the negro little Daniel during her widowhood. I also give and bequeath to my said son one horse and saddle, one bed and furniture and ten pounds to be raised out of my estate as hereafter directed to him and his heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my daughter, Elizabeth Smith, six negroes, viz.: Lucy, Dorcus, Phill, Harry, Ned and Tilla, and their increase. I also give unto my daughter, Elizabeth Smith, one negro, by the name of Charles, reserving unto my beloved wife the use of the aforesaid negro, Charles, during her natural life to her and her heirs forever.

Item: I give and bequeath unto my daughter Lucy Burton, seven negroes, viz.: Jesse, Anicka, Roger, Rachel, Clair, Maria and Luck, reserving unto my beloved wife the use of the aforesaid negro, Luck, during her natural life. Also, I give and bequeath unto my aforesaid daughter, Lucy, one horse and saddle, one bed and furniture and ten pounds, to be raised out of my estate as hereafter directed, to her and her heirs forever.

I lend unto my beloved wife six negroes, viz.: Ben, Dick, Luck, Charles, Beck and little Daniel, during her natural life, and at her death to dispose of the aforesaid negro girl, Beck, in any manner she may think proper to some of my children, or their heirs. I also lend unto my beloved wife one-third part of my personal estate during her natural life and at her death to be, with the aforesaid negroes, lent to my said wife not before divided, equally among my children or their heirs.

My will further is that the privilege of my ten lots of land in James river be equally divided among all my children, or their heirs. My will and desire further is that all the rest of my estate not before divided be sold, and after paying all my just debts and legisees herein mentioned, the money from such sale be equally divided among all my children, their heirs.

And, lastly, my will is that my estate shall not be appraised nor my executors give security for their executorship, and I appoint my sons, William Burton, John Burton, Daniel Burton and Thomas Burton, executors of this, my last will and testament, hereby revoking all other wills by me heretofore made, in witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this first day of January, 1791.

Hudson-Ballard

[Contributed to GENEALOGY]

Rebecca Hudson, married Dec. 16, 1662, at Lynn, Nathaniel Ballard² (William¹). She died at Lynn, May 16, 1724. Her husband died Jan. 12, 1721, at Lynn. It is claimed by their descendants that this family came from Bristol in Gloucestershire and that they were related to the celebrated explorer, Henry Hudson. Was Rebecca a daughter of Thomas Hudson, of Lynn, as has been surmised? Was Thomas a son of Daniel Hudson, of Watertown? Daniel died 1697, and had a son, Thomas. Gov. John Leverett, of Mass., married Hannah, daughter of Ralph Hudson, of Boston. She died leaving a daughter, Rebecca Leverett, of about the same age as Rebecca Hudson. What relation were they?

The John Brainerd Family

[Contributed to GENEALOGY]

John Brainerd, who succeeded his brother David, as missionary among the Indians of New Jersey, was born at Haddam, Conn., February 28, 1720. He was fitted for college probably by his brother Nehemiah. This brother was pastor of the Eastbury (Conn.) Church from April, 1740, until his death, November 9, 1742. John was graduated at Yale in 1746.

He went to Bethel, near Cranberry, in April, 1747, and began assisting David among the Indians. David took a journey to New England during the summer, hoping to recover his health, but died October 9th, at Northampton. John was commissioned in his brother's place by the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge. He was ordained in February, 1748. The Indian children were provided with a school and were taught spinning, business and some of the trades.

The Indians, having been dispossessed of their land, Brainerd, in May, 1755, was released by the society. He returned to New England, but soon was invited to preach at Newark. He accepted, and moved there with his family, remaining about one year.

Brainerd, in June, 1756, at the request of the society, again began work among the Indians, removing to New Brunswick. He was again released in September, 1757, and the same month again was called to Newark and settled there. In March, 1759, at the request of the society, to which was added the appeal of Governor Francis Bernard, he once more considered going to the Indians, finally leaving his comfortable charge at Newark, in May, 1759.

He labored among the Indians at Brotherton, Burlington County, and also did pioneer work among the white settlements. He dwelt for a time at Mt. Holly, where his meeting-house was burned by the British. He was called, in 1777, to Deerfield, Cumberland County, where he preached until his death, March 18, 1781.

Brainerd's first wife, Experience Lyon, died September 17, 1757, leaving three little children. His second wife, Experience Price, died August 28, 1793; she had no children. Two of Brainerd's children, Sophie and David, died at Newark, during September, 1758. The surviving daughter married Major John Ross, of Revolutionary fame.

Brainerd is buried beneath the floor of the Deerfield church.

Benjamin Logan, b. 1743, in Augusta Co., Va., d. 1802, in Shelby Co., Ky., commanded many expeditions against the Indians in the Northwest.

William Logan, b. 1756, in Pennsylvania, enlisted in 1776, in Capt. Peter Grubb's Co., Col. Samuel Miles' Rifle Regiment. In 1781, he received depreciation pay for his services.
